MACMILLAN FLIES INTO BONN TODAY

By BRACK CURRY

BONN (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew into Bonn today to see West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and said the West must adopt an elastic position in trying to meet the Soviet challenge to Berlin.

"We all stand together, but in the methods of defense we must remain elastic," Macmillan told newsmen at the airport.

The British Prime Minister arrived half an hour after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev took off from East Berlin for Moscow. During eight days in East Germany he had plugged as hard as ever for a German peace treaty and showed himself still determined to wrest West Berlin from the Western Allies.

Macmillan's visit to Adenauer was his second stop on a swing around the major allied capitals to discuss Western policy in the light of his talks with Khrushchev in Moscow. The Briton met with President Charles de Gaulle and Premier Michel Debre in Paris earlier this week and goes next week to Washington.

Macmillan remarked today that the West is "still a long way from our goal" of finding means of countering the Soviet threat to West Berlin. But he stressed that the West remains "resolute and firm on our principles."

The Soviet leader's tour wound up with a joint Soviet-East German communique Wednesday night calling for a peace treaty on terms already rejected by the West.

The Soviet Union and the East German satellite regime pledged to keep the road open between West Berlin and the West—but only on condition that the Allied (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

ike's Talks With Minister To Be In Mountain Lodge

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will go to a secluded mountain lodge for the initial talks starting March 20 on the Berlin crisis.

The sessions will be at Eisenhower's retreat in the Catskill Mountains near Thruway, Md. Announcing this today, the White House said the President and Macmillan probably will be at the lodge for at least three days—through March 22.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said that does not necessarily mean the talks will last only three days.

Hagerty said Eisenhower is hopeful that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, still in a hospital for radiation treatment for cancer, will be able to participate.

Eisenhower's lodge, situated about 65 miles north of Washington, is known as Camp David. It was named by the President for both his father and his 10-year-old grandson. Macmillan is to arrive in Washington March 19.

West Offers Possibility of Top Level Conference Later

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers are expected soon to offer the Soviet Union the definite possibility of a summit conference later this year.

The major Western condition for a top level meeting probably will be that an earlier conference of foreign ministers should make progress toward settling the Berlin crisis.

There is behind-the-scenes British dissent on this point, however. London leaders have informed other Allied governments they believe that direct and personal negotiations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will have to be arranged sooner or later in any case.

N.Y. Assembly Okays Corporal Punishment

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Should teachers be free to use corporal punishment on pupils?

Yes, the Assembly said, approving, 100-43, a bill that would prevent school boards from adopting any policy that would bar teachers from using "reasonable force" to discipline unruly pupils.

The state penal law prohibits criminal prosecution of teachers who exercise reasonable force. However, local boards of education, including the New York City board, have adopted rules against corporal punishment.

The bill needs Senate approval and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's signature to become law.

United States and Canada Announce Tolls for Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Canada today announced St. Lawrence Seaway tolls designed to pay off the construction debt of the huge waterway in 50 years.

The rates are the same as those presented in tentative form last June. At the time, shipping circles said the tolls were somewhat lower than they had expected.

The charges are less than those levied on vessels passing through the Suez and Panama canals. The seaway, which cost about 451 million dollars, will be opened to traffic next month. The minimum depth of the channel between Montreal and Lake Erie is 27 feet. The old channel minimum depth was 14 feet.

With the arrival of spring comes the welcome announcement to boys of all ages in Warren County that the Soap Box Derby will once again be held this year. Times Publishing Company, Dan's Chevrolet, and the Warren Jaycees have again consented to sponsor this, the most ambitious and satisfying youth project currently in operation in the area.

Derby Director John Lesser, of the Jaycees, is presently filling out his committee assignments, and he indicates that experienced Derby personnel are in charge of the vital portions of this important project. Harold Miller is this year's Track Director, assisted by Ronald Flatt; Registrations are being handled by last year's Derby Director, Harry Spackman, assisted by Wayne King; Clinics will be in charge of Donald King, assisted by William Hesch; Inspections are in charge of Elmer Mellander, with William Hansen as his assistant; and the publicity will be written by William Hill Jr. A few more committee assignments are still to be made, and those are expected to be announced within a few days.

Registrations for the Soap Box Derby will be held this year at Dan's Chevrolet here in Warren and are to commence on March 12th. Boys who wish to enter the Derby must go to Dan's Chevrolet to enter and must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The registration deadline this year has been set for May 15, and it is expected that a large number of boys will have entered by that time.

Clinics for this year's race will be held weekly, starting in May, and will continue right up until Derby time when the tempo will be increased. The committee in Clinics has promised that as many clinics as are (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

UEW Officials in Pittsburgh Face Contempt Charges

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Contempt of Congress citations are being considered against two officials of the United Electrical Workers Union by a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The three-member committee, probing communist activities in western Pennsylvania, ordered a review of fiery testimony given Wednesday by Thomas Quinn of nearby Monroeville, Pa., a UE field organizer, and Atty. Frank Donner UE general counsel of New York.

In addition, the committee called for a Justice Department probe of what it said was possible perjury on Quinn's part.

The committee action came after Quinn denied in shouts that he ever was a member of the Communist Party. The committee noted that he had been sentenced to jail in 1951 for refusing to answer questions about whether he had ever been a communist.

Donner heatedly charged that he was being "smeared" and that the hearings here were "nothing but a three-ring circus purely for the purpose of promoting headlines."

Also called to testify were Robert Kirkwood, business agent of UE Local 610 in Greensburg, Pa.; John W. Nelson, president of UE Local 506, Erie, Pa.; and Thomas Wright, managing editor of the national UE newspaper published in New York City.

Six Convicted in Plot To Overthrow U. S. Government

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Three men and three women, protesting their innocence, were convicted Wednesday night of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

They were not sentenced immediately. Lawyers for the six said the verdict will be appealed. U. S. Dist. Judge Lee Knous granted their motion for five days in which to file for a new trial. Bonds ranged from $5,000 to $20,000—the largest amount for Arthur Barry, 47, of San Jose, Calif.

The six were convicted in 1955 on similar charges but that verdict was reversed by the 10th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which ordered the case retried without the charge mentioning communism.

The charge against a seventh defendant convicted in the first trial, Lewis M. Johnson, 38, of Boston, Mass., was dismissed at the request of government lawyers.

Prison Term for Man Who Stabbed His Wife

PITTSBURGH (AP)—George Toth, 22, a former Hungarian freedom fighter who settled in McKeesport, received a 10 to 20-year prison term Wednesday for the knife slaying of his wife. Toth changed his plea from innocent to guilty. Visiting Judge Robert V. Trembath of Wyoming County set the degree of guilt at second degree murder. Toth's wife, Irene, 24, was slain last Aug. 11 at the home of a friend.

BUTLER CHURCH BURNS

BOYER, Pa. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Methodist Church in this Butler County community Wednesday night, causing a loss estimated by the pastor at $75,000 to $100,000. No one was injured.

Firemen from eight companies battled the flames three hours. Harrisville Fire Chief Jerry Taylor said the fire apparently was caused by an overheated furnace. The pastor, the Rev. Bernard C. Himes, said the frame church had been remodeled at a cost of $20,000 last year.

Winter Has The State in Tight Grip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old man winter reminded Pennsylvania today that he still has plenty of punch left, although spring is only 10 days off.

Snow fell throughout the state during the night, but changed to a cold rain mixed with sleet early today in many sections. Both rain and snow were expected to end throughout Pennsylvania by late this afternoon, except for scattered flurries.

It was still snowing hard this morning, however, in northern and central Pennsylvania. Erie reported five inches of new snow; Altoona, seven; Bradford and Phillipsburg, eight; Williamsport, six, and Harrisburg, five.

In both Pittsburgh, with five inches, and Philadelphia, with one, the early morning rain helped wash away the snow.

Most secondary roads were reported hazardous. The Pennsylvania Turnpike was snow and ice covered, but crews kept it cleared.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With spring only nine days away, winter took a parting wallop at the Northeast today. Snow ranging up to 14 inches was dumped on the region eastward from Indiana to Virginia and Maine.

As morning came, the snow began changing to rain in the southernmost areas. In some areas there was sleet.

Air and highway travel was disrupted. Trains remained pretty much on schedule. Hundreds of schools were closed for the day in several states.

Up to midmorning, four fatalities were linked to the storm. Heart attacks felled three persons shoveling snow in Ohio. A car-truck collision killed another at Delaware, Ohio.

Western Maryland and northern West Virginia got the heaviest snowfalls. They ranged up to 14 inches. Northwestern New Jersey had an estimated 10 inches of snow. New England was expected to get eight inches or more.

Cleveland's Hopkins Airport was closed at 5:25 a.m. Operations at New York and Boston airports were hampered but not halted.

In western central and northeastern Pennsylvania authorities issued warnings of hazardous driving. In all affected areas, sanding crews were out in force attempting to keep highways open.

Snow accumulations during the early morning hours amounted to 8 inches in sections of western Pennsylvania. Some flights were canceled at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

As snow moved into Connecticut, the Weather Bureau forecast 4 to 8 inches. Temperatures were slightly under freezing. The storm entered Connecticut from the southwest, where it originated in West Virginia. Up to 8 inches of snow was forecast for other sections of New England.

Ford Motor Co. Plans To Build Smaller Vehicle

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. has become the first of the Big Three auto makers to confirm it will build a smaller car.

The company said in a letter to stockholders Wednesday that barring changes in the small car market, Ford will introduce an economy model sometime this fall.

Neither General Motors nor Chrysler, the other two members of the Big Three, had any comment on the Ford announcement. Both have outlined company positions in previous statements.

The latest of these was Tuesday when L. T. (Tex) Colbert, Chrysler president, told a news conference in New York that Chrysler had a small car in the testing stage but had not yet decided whether to put in on the market.

The GM stand was incorporated in the company's 1958 annual report by Frederic G. Donner, board chairman, and John F. Gordon, president.

Dems Claim Votes To Pass A Four Percent Sales Tax Despite Bitter Opposition

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democratic floor leader of the House today counted enough votes to pass a 4 per cent sales tax with certain exemptions even in the face of bitter opposition from labor and other groups.

"I've got the votes," said Rep. Stephen McCann (D-Greene) in answer to loud rumbles of discontent among labor leaders and others at the prospect of boosting the tax percentage and exempting auto trade-ins and over-the-bar beer and liquor sales.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor threatened to drop its support of the proposed Lawrence tax package if any "significant" alterations are made.

Other labor leaders bluntly announced they will withdraw their backing of the tax package adopted by Lawrence at the recommendation of his bipartisan study committee if it is raised to 4 per cent.

McCann based his confident forecast of votes on a compromise he said was proposed at a Democratic caucus Tuesday to still a rank-and-file revolt over Gov. Lawrence's plan to boost the sales levy from 3 to 3½ per cent and expand its coverage.

McCann claimed the compromise would free the entire 12-bill tax package awaiting House action.

Joseph A. McDonough, PFL president, said his group will "oppose any and all such compromises." He said any significant alteration of the present tax package will relieve his organization of a pledge to support the fiscal blueprint.

State CIO president, Harry Boyer, stated bluntly that his organization "will not support a 4 per cent sales tax and we'll oppose any attempt to put take home food and clothing within any sales tax."

Lawrence's sales tax proposal and a companion hotel room tax—which also would go up to 4 per cent under the compromise—have been before the House since last week. Ten other tax proposals are in the Ways and Means Committee.

McCann maintained the caucus agreement "includes passage in the House of all tax measures."

The Greene County lawmaker said he briefed Gov. Lawrence Wednesday on the caucus' opposition to the present sales tax proposal. McCann added, however, that the governor made no commitment on the changes proposed in caucus.

Lawrence at his news conference Wednesday expressed willingness to compromise. But he added he wanted to talk further with Clifford Hood and Thomas Kennedy, co-chairmen of the Tax Advisory Committee which drew up the revenue program for raising an additional 400 million dollars in the next biennium.

GUNTER SEEMS CERTAIN OF G.O.P. NOMINATION
HARRISBURG (AP)—Judge Blair Gunter, Pittsburgh, of the State Superior Court today was virtually assured the Republican nomination for state Supreme Court in the May 19 primary.

The possibility of an inner party struggle over the court post was precluded Wednesday by the withdrawal of Judge Edward J. Griffiths, Philadelphia.

George I. Bloom, GOP state chairman, announced the withdrawal of Griffiths, whose supporters had planned a fight against organization-backed Gunter.

Judge's Roll of Dice Sends Man to Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A city judge's roll of the dice sent Tommy Jackson to jail for 30 days.

Jackson appeared before Judge Mitchell Goldman on a charge of gambling. Goldman convicted the 27-year-old Negro and found out he had three previous dicing convictions. Jackson also had a pair of dice.

"You want to roll for the time?" asked the judge. "No, sir," said Jackson.

"I'll roll for you," said Goldman, rattling the dice. "H'mm—an ace and a deuce. Three. Thirty days."

Lawrence Asks Business Support Of His Program

BULLETIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. Lawrence will meet with members of his Tax Advisory Committee here this afternoon to try to hammer out a compromise tax package acceptable to the State Legislature.

The closed door conference follows the governor's address on jobs and business climate at a conference sponsored by the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

The governor reportedly scheduled the meeting with his tax advisors—there was no indication how many members would be able to attend—in his determined effort to solve the present tax impasse in the State House of Representatives.

Lawrence scheduled a 3 p. m. meeting with newsmen here.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today asked business lobbyists to join with labor leaders in supporting a tax program suited to the state's best interests.

"To their very great credit, our fellow Pennsylvanians in the highest leadership ranks of organized labor have agreed to taxes which are admittedly consumer taxes—to which labor is philosophically opposed," Lawrence said.

"They have been ready to agree because they placed the state's economic growth and the state's ability to supply essential services above any other consideration."

"It will be a great pity—and a great blow to Pennsylvania—if the massed regiments of business lobbyists at Harrisburg, each representing (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Girl Witness in Death Of Officer Sentenced

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—A 16-year-old girl who witnessed the slaying of a police chief was placed on five years probation Wednesday on a delinquency charge.

Nancy Jean Sedlock of Erie, Mich., was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Charles E. Miller.

She said she was with Douglas Barker, 28, and claimed Barker shot Police Chief Amos Morris of Mannington on Feb. 28. Miss Sedlock broke away from Barker and turned herself in to authorities at Frederick, Md., that same day.

Barker shot himself to death two days later when police cornered him in his home at Leaksville, N.C.

Opposition Mounts Against Horse Race Betting Measure

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Opposition mounted today against legislation aimed at the eventual legalization of horse race betting in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania Council of Churches reported it has started a grass roots campaign across the state aimed at short circuiting bills before the Legislature that would lead to pari-mutuel wagering.

At the same time key Senate lawmakers voiced opposition to the legislation.

The actions came after Gov. Lawrence reaffirmed Wednesday he would sign into a law a bill calling for a voter's referendum on the question of horse race betting, if the measure passes the Legislature.

ADOPTED IN SENATE BY 76-15 VOTE

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House was geared today to take final congressional action to make Hawaii the 50th state.

The Senate voted 76-15 Wednesday night in favor of statehood for the mid-Pacific islands. The vote came after only one day of debate.

The sponsor of the House bill, Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D-NY) of the House Territories subcommittee, said he was prepared to amend his measure to conform exactly to the Senate-passed bill which had 56 co-sponsors.

House approval of a conforming measure would send the bill directly to President Eisenhower. His signature would pave the way for state elections in time to seat two Hawaii senators and one representative in the House in this session of Congress.

Any variance between House and Senate versions of the bill would require Senate-House conferences and subsequent votes of concurrence.

Rep. John R. Saylor (R-Pa.) pressed for an amendment to give Hawaii two House members. He said Hawaii, with about 600,000 population, is entitled to two representatives under the apportionment formula adopted by Congress in 1941.

Gov. William F. Quinn arrived in Washington by air too late to witness the Senate vote. At an impromptu celebration in the old Supreme Court chamber of the Capitol, Quinn thanked Senate leaders for their vote of confidence in Hawaii's people.

"Hawaii," he said, "has a destiny in the Pacific and a mission to accomplish. We are conscious of that mission and will do our utmost to carry it out."

News of the Senate vote reached the islands at mid-afternoon and was greeted with joy.

Acting Gov. Edward E. Johnson proclaimed a two-day holiday to start the moment the House passes the statehood bill.

Revolt Against Kassem Mounting As Students Riot

By WILTON WYNN

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Nasser accused Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem today of isolating Iraq from Arab nationalism and trying to bring all Arab peoples "under a Communist reign of terror."

This was the strongest attack Nasser has yet made on Kassem. Speaking to students demonstrating before the presidential palace, he used words much harsher than he did Wednesday when he criticized Kassem for hostility to the United Arab Republic.

Nasser alluded to the strength of the U.A.R.-Air Force.

Taking their cue from Nasser's bitter speech Wednesday, the Cairo press branded Kassem a Communist agent.

Schoolgirls in black and white uniforms hoisted big U.A.R. flags and marched to the presidential residence where Nasser is staying. A pupil with pink ribbons tied to her pigtailed led classmates in chants denouncing Kassem and proclaiming Arab solidarity.

Older students converged on Nasser's headquarters as anti-Kassem fever mounted.

In Baghdad, crowds hanged Nasser in effigy and blamed him for the brief, unsuccessful army revolt against Kassem in northern Iraq.

That Optimistic, Patient, Happy Group—Gardeners

It used to strike me as strange that people who love to garden are almost always likable and pleasant to be around. But I think I've got it figured out now. The gardener is an optimist. He has to be to forget last summer's drought, the plague of grasshoppers and the backbreaking work of weeding, hoeing, fertilizing. He must face each new spring with glorious visions of the way his garden is going to look "this year."

Then, too, the gardener is a patient person. He can plant bulbs in the fall and wait for them to break through the soil in the spring.

He can nurse a sickly plant along, coaxing it by food and water and loving care into sturdy growth. He can wait for leaves to come out and buds to form. You can't be an impatient person and really enjoy gardening.

The gardener, also, is a person with a seeing eye. He is entranced with color, shape and form. A blue sky, a plant just breaking in bloom—or a hummingbird at work, can make him as happy.

The gardener is also generous. For much of the pleasure in growing things is in sharing.

A true gardener is always urging you to take home a bouquet, a cutting of the plants you admire most in his garden. The best he is responsible for he loves to share.

And last of all, the gardener is enthusiastic. He is so excited at growing things that he has to show you the peach tree that is full bloom or the daffodils that have just opened.

And the nice thing about his enthusiasm is that it is for the thing without a price tag. Who knows the money value of a tree whose bare branches in winter form a lovely pattern against the sky, whose green branches in spring hide a bird's nest?

Who knows the value of an old lilac bush that fills the spring air with fragrance?

(All rights reserved, NFA Company, Inc.)

We'll Pass!

Old Man Winter made a five inch convincing impression across the country today that he'll possibly be around to greet the spring season in nine days.

Early risers (late ones, too) were given a friendly greeting once again as a five inch-plus blanket of snow pleasantly covered the area. Warm spring-tinted sun and balmy weather throughout recent days is but a memory now.

It can't last forever, although it's gone four months now. Calendar has first day of spring scheduled for March 21—one week from Saturday.

Ground hog's decision to crawl back in his hole after his Feb. 2 brief visit, was a wise move, we figure. Robins and geese are topics of discussion as both birds have been seen recently.

The downfall which started early last evening, made driving treacherous today. Many country roads remained nearly impassable.

There still may be more snow coming, as weatherman forecasts cloudy, warm weather Friday with possible snow tomorrow evening.

SUGAR GROVE

SUGAR GROVE—Arden V. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carlson, is spending a leave with his parents, having completed four years of service with the U. S. Navy and reporting back for duty March 24 on a six-year re-enlistment.

A news release from Long Beach, Calif., reports Seaman Carlson was aboard the USS Dennis J. Buckley, just recently back in port after a six-months' tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet. His ship patrolled in water off Formosa during the Quemoy issue, and also visited Pearl Harbor, Sasebo, Japan, Okinawa, and the Philippines.

Mrs. Ernest Hokanson, Olean, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Walter Storms. Sunday guests at the Storms home included Mr. and Mrs. Leland DeWitte, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Storms, Friendship, N. Y.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Clark and family, Cherry Creek, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warner.

Mrs. George Morrison and son, Brian, of Panama, were Sunday guests of her daughter, Mrs. Wendell Warner, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hensler, Buffalo, were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cody.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr., attended a birthday party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Blackstone, honoring the anniversaries of Mr. Blackstone and Robert Wright of Jamestown.

Many local residents lost several hours of sleep early Monday, when wild geese passing over town roused most of the community. Several persons watched them between one o'clock and six in the morning, when they were circling low as they flew over.

Matter of FACT

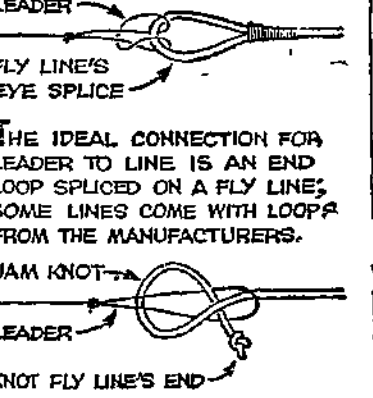

The American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died practically unnoticed in Paris in 1792. He was buried in the St. Louis Cemetery for Protestants. More than 100 years later, Ambassador Horace Porter of the United States searched for and found his remains. They were brought to the United States on a U.S. warship and are now entombed in the chapel of the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

MAY BUILD STATION

United Refining company may be able to build a filling station in Jamestown on the Gifford building's site without action by the Zoning Board of Appeals. Members of the board met in executive session yesterday to cover zoning regulations covering the area and left a decision on interpretation in the hands of City Building Inspector James A. Hedberg. Hedberg states that under a B-2 classification which includes the Gifford building, any retail or wholesale building may be constructed. The proposed filling station would be included under the ruling. United Refining company has not petitioned the board for permission to build the station.

Bright Prospect for Business Is Predicted

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. says business prospects for the first half of this year "are exceptionally bright."

But prospects for the second half are much less clear because the steel industry's contract with the United Steelworkers expires June 30, the firm's annual report to stockholders said Wednesday.

"It is our earnest hope and desire that a fair and equitable agreement can be reached without interruption to production and on a basis which will be non-inflationary," said Avery C. Adams, board chairman and president.

Adams said production for the first three months of the year will be approximately 90 per cent of capacity. He added that the firm may reach capacity operations during the second quarter.

Oddities in the News

CAROLINA BEACH, N.C. (AP) — Police in this resort town figured the elderly vacationer was kidding in making himself at home. They found him cooking his meals in a telephone booth.

Inside the booth on Fisherman's pier were a small oil stove, a frying pan, cheese, some eggs and cooking oil. An old broom was propped outside.

"We found out," said City Manager William Gary, "that he couldn't cook inside the room he had taken in a rooming house. So he went to the beach but the wind blew into his food out there and he moved into the booth."

Officers found him a room with cooking privileges.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ernest Gurley has hired counsel for his wife, Beatrice, charged with seeking his murder.

"I love my wife," said Gurley, 45. "And I'm going to stick by her — even if it takes everything I've got."

Gurley makes $60 a week as a truckdriver. His wife, 41, was charged Wednesday with attempted murder after allegedly admitting she tried to hire someone to shoot him to death.

"She didn't know what she was doing," Gurley said. "She needs a doctor's care."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pretty Kentucky belle greets the carrier Midway as she arrives today with 3,500 sailors and fliers. Phyllis Ann Cox, 19 of Lexington, Ky. was chosen Miss Midway by the ship's crew. She is the sister of a crewman, Aviation Ordnanceman William S. Cox.

Miss Cox, a coed at Georgetown (Ky.) College, is 5-feet-1 and 35-22-35.

She'll get a great cheer from the Midway crew, which has been in the Far East seven months.

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Sheriff Myron Gilbert of Ada County decided to test the local roadblock system for trapping wanted criminals.

Twenty-seven officers were assigned to roadblocks in the area to watch for Gilbert, who theoretically had held up a grocery store and stolen a getaway car in Boise.

Gilbert eluded the dragnet and made it to Mountain Home, Idaho — 43 miles away — without once being challenged.

Agricultural Extension News

Bluegrass

Bluegrass is one of the most palatable pasture grasses. It is early and will continue to grow so long as soil temperature is below 80 degrees F., and moisture is available. By proper management bluegrass will also be very productive.

Blaine Schlosser, assistant County Agent, urges periodic liming of bluegrass pastures to maintain pH between 6.5 and 7.0. If more than 2 tons of lime per acre is required, apply half of the needed amount the year tested, and half the following year.

Apply phosphate and potash according to needs as indicated by soil tests. Each year at least 300 lbs. of 0-20-20 or equivalent per acre should be applied.

Bluegrass will respond tremendously to application of nitrogen. For maximum production these pastures need an application of 80 to 100 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre. Apply the nitrogen in early spring before the grass begins to grow. Careful management of nitrogen treated bluegrass is necessary. As growth will start earlier, it is wise to start pasturing about 2 weeks earlier than normal. To keep up with growth heavy pasturing will be necessary, with about 3 mature cows or 6 heifers per acre. Clip pastures periodically to remove old, mature growth.

Chemical Weed Control

The top five farmers in the 1958 Pennsylvania Corn Club used chemical weed control measures, reports Assistant County Agent Baline Schlosser. Three sprayed before weeds emerged, while two sprayed shortly after the weeds emerged when they were small.

Weeds take nourishment from the soil which plants intended for harvest should get. For complete information on chemical weed control in corn and other field crops, consult the 1959 edition of the Agronomy Guide. The Guide is free at the office of the County Agent located in the Courthouse Annex, Warren.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP) — The top officials of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) told stockholders that Jersey affiliates are expected to share fully in the continuing increase of overall demand for oil for many years to come.

Chairman Eugene Holman and President M. J. Rathbone, expressing optimism over the long range outlook, said that higher sales, with operating costs under control, should result in improved net earnings.

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual report of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio said the indicated demand for petroleum products should increase this year.

Chairman C. T. Foster and President C. E. Spahr said the company will participate in the general improvement evident in the economy.

They said the higher demand may make up for some of the lag which existed during 1957 and 1958.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chairman Robert E. Gross of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., predicted that 1959 will be the company's best for commercial sales, topping 1957, the previous best year.

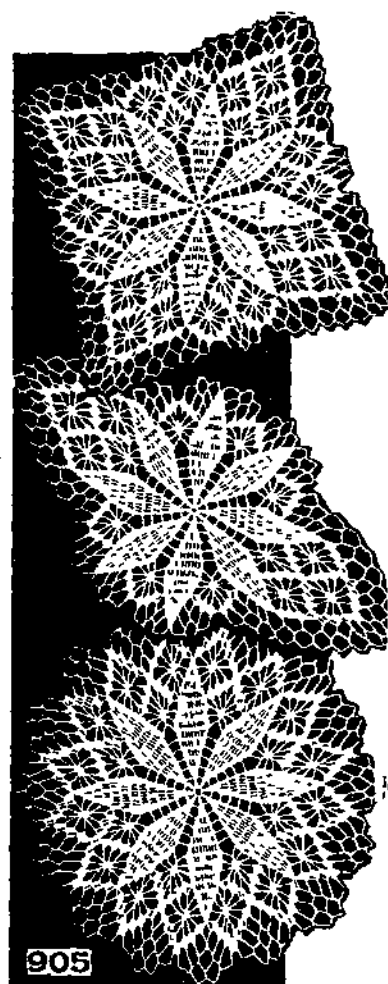

He said Lockheed will deliver 112 turbo-prop aircraft transports valued at more than 260 million dollars during the year.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad reported freight carloadings for the week ended March 7 were 83,679 cars or more than 8,000 above the 75,598 a year ago and some 2,000 above the 81,028 cars of the previous week.

For the year to date loadings by the road total 764,289 compared with 730,037 to the same date a year ago.

TOMORROW'S MESSAGE

(An Editorial from The New York Times.)

The earth swings slowly but inexorably on its trunnions and now we in this Northern Hemisphere begin once more to face the sun directly. Sunrise is almost east again, and sunset west; and at midday the sunlight begins to probe the winter-armored soil instead of glancing off. The vernal equinox approaches.

Man, when he looks to see, finds deliberate and familiar but still astonishing consequences. The willows. The streamside brush we know as red time, there will be catkins on those ambering stems, those strange, furry blossoms we call pussy willows. The streamside brush we know as red osier of dogwood seems to pulse once more with its warming crimson color. Life stirs at the root there, too. In sugar maple country the sap begins to move. And in the boglands those grandfather of the swamp, the skunk cabbages, unfurl their purplish hoods, green pioneers of spring.

In the fields, the winter sparrows reach for song, sometimes achieve it. Crows call in a new register, and jays chatter of new days to come. The chickadees surpass their twittering, and in the near-by woods the woodpeckers drum in a new season. Overhead the squirrels race through the treetops, pausing here and there to taste the coming green in a mouthful of tight-furled buds. On the hillsides the brooks rouse from cold hibernation and begin to chortle. Ice groans in the rivers, nudged by flowing water.

The earth is slowly warmed. Change creeps in. Not overnight, and not in a day or two, but inevitably. March is not May, and snow and ice give way reluctantly. But the pattern is set. The sun is writing tomorrow's message on the earth.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, who in recent weeks has had to depend more on himself than at any time since entering the White House in 1953, sounds more emphatic, blunter.

This showed at his news conference Wednesday. At his meetings with congressional leaders last weekend he reportedly was very much in charge.

The two men he leaned on most are now out of the picture.

Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's chief of staff in the White House until he resigned last summer, has a great cushion against the burdens of the presidency.

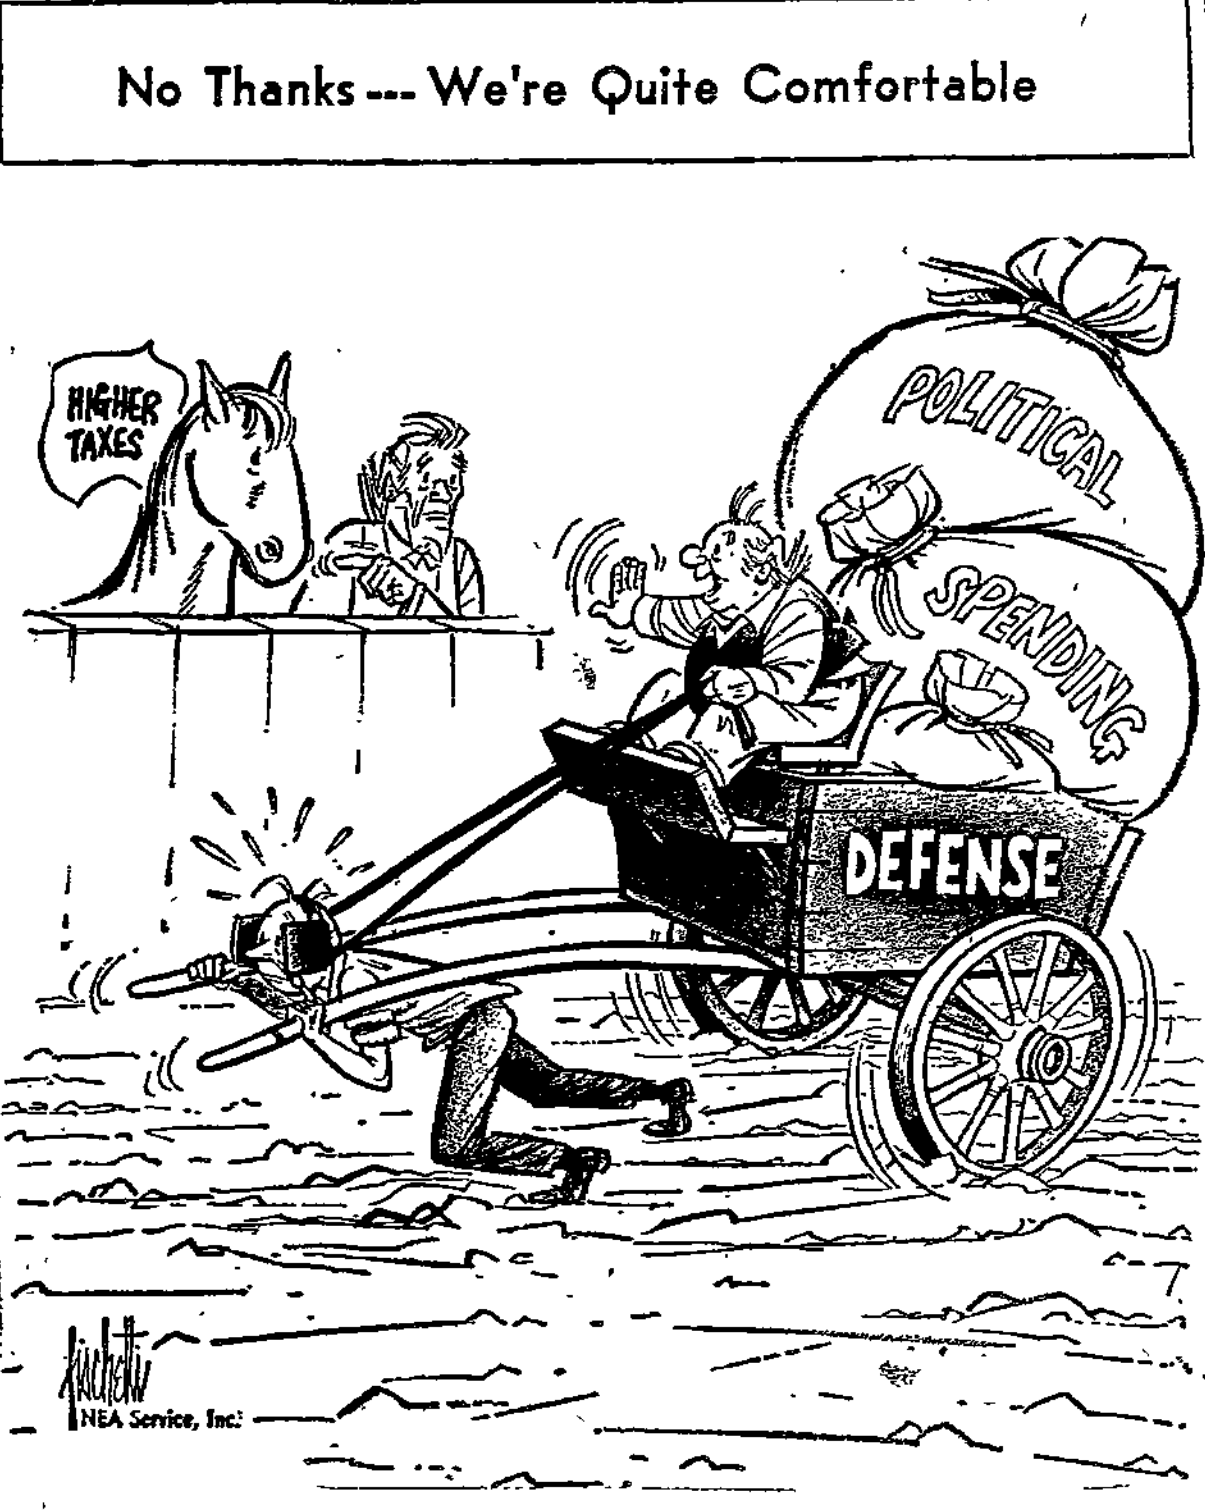

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now ill with cancer, had an extraordinary relationship with the President. He was Eisenhower's eyes and ears in foreign policy and much of the time his spokesman.

Now far more of the presidential load has landed on Eisenhower's shoulders, along with its many irritations. And Eisenhower is responding with a show of vigor.

In times past, if you attended one of his news conferences and didn't have to concentrate on taking notes, your mind was apt to wander as Eisenhower rambled through generalities that lacked a sharp edge.

Not Wednesday. He still got round up in long, involved sentences which often scrambled subject and predicate, but he made points that did have an edge.

Perhaps it was out of exasperation with congressional Democrats, who have been calling on him to pump more men and money into the armed forces, that he finally said in effect,

Here and There

"Doubled or tripled public support" has been urged for the expanding program of scientific research sponsored by the American Heart Association. The Association's Research Committee stated that much larger funds were required to finance the widening scientific attack on diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Additional funds are required to meet: (1) The greatly increased number of applications for approved research projects. (2) Commitments for longer-term awards. (3) Rising costs of research and inflationary trends. The Committee pointed out that over $6,000,000 would be needed for new and continuing awards in the Association's research program in 1959-60. It said that only half of this amount would be available unless there is a substantial increase in public support.

According to the Research Committee's report, about $50,000,000 a year for all sources is currently being spent to support cardiovascular research in the U. S., apart from expenditures by the institutions in which such research is performed. Of this amount, it is estimated that in 1957-58, $7,000,000 came from the American Heart Association and local Heart Associations. For the year 1958-59 fiscal year, the sums thus spent will total about $8,000,000.

An interesting letter over the signature of Horace A. Cray, chairman of the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee, is included in literature in the mails soliciting support for the annual Easter Seal Sale. For the benefit of those readers who may not have been included in the mailing list we take the liberty of reprinting some of the information it contains. Among other things it says: "There are scores of boys and girls right here in Warren County who cannot share our independence. They are crippled! They can't go where they like unless someone takes them; they can't say what they think unless a speech therapist trains them. They are dependent upon wheelchairs, heavy braces, crutches, surgeons, therapists, kind and understanding parents, friends and you. For 33 years the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee has helped hundreds of crippled children. One case in particular comes to mind—that of a tiny girl born with a spinal defect which would not permit her weak spine to grow straight and strong. For eight years she wore corrective plaster packets (most of the time day and night) and finally, after growth was attained, an operation was performed to stabilize the weak spine. Today she has completed college and is a charming and much loved teacher in a school not far from Warren. More children will be born this year, some of them will be crippled and they, with the many others under our care, depend on you to give generously in this Easter Seal Appeal. Your gift—large or small—will help the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee lend a helping hand to them, that they, too, may grow to manhood and womanhood strong and independent, self-supporting citizens. The motto of the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee is: No Case is Ever Closed as Long as There is Hope of Helping the Crippled Child. So, won't you sit down now and return your Easter Seal contribution in the envelope? Do your part to assure independence to those who want and need it so badly. You may make your checks simply 'Crippled Children's' and remember that this gift of yours will help them to walk—and talk—and be independent!"

Ran across an article the other day in the file of 1899 entitled "The Grip and Sulphur" which should prove entertaining and interesting to readers of this column today. Read James 1:19-21.

Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. (Acts 1:8.)

My grandfather Horstall lived his Christianity. He owned a general store in a Midwestern community. He conducted his business as he thought a Christian should.

Across the street from the store, a family by the name of Jones moved in. They were new in that part of the state.

After several months, Mr. Jones went to the minister of the little church and said, "I've been watching Mr. Horstall all these months and I want what he has. I have decided it is Christianity. Will you help me?" The minister prayed with Mr. Jones and he accepted Christ.

From his home went two daughters. One was a preacher for a number of years in California. The other was for years a missionary in China. It all started because my grandfather lived his Christianity day by day.

We, too, should be such witnesses for our Lord Jesus Christ that by our daily living we reveal His redemptive love.

PRAYER

Dear Father, Thou didst give Thine only Son for our redemption. Help us to show Him to the world so that men may bow before Him in complete surrender and arise to a life of service in Thy kingdom. In His holy name we pray. Amen.

NEW YORK (AP) — As it is learning to live with the new federal import curbs the oil industry today is fighting off another of the perennial congressional attacks on its depletion tax allowance.

This exemption as set up in 1926 by Congress provides that 27½ per cent of each barrel of crude oil produced would be considered as used up capital assets and as such wasn't subject to income tax payments.

A limit was placed: The exemption couldn't be more than 50 per cent of the net income of the particular oil producing property, and each property should be treated as a separate unit.

This allowance often is challenged as giving the oil companies undue preference when figuring corporate income taxes.

It is accused of giving individuals getting their income solely from oil wells as having a running start on others whose incomes come from different sources.

The allowance for depletion of natural resources applies to other minerals. The percentage for sulphur and uranium is 23 per cent; for metals 15 per cent; for coal 10 per cent; for sand and gravel 5 per cent.

MEDICAL BROWSING

Sties, like boils, often come in crops. When this occurs, it may be necessary to resort to all the tricks of the trade to bring them under control. Germ killers are used freely and resistance is built up by improving general health.

An English eye surgeon may have the solution to the problem. Dr. P. W. Monckton Copeman went to the source—the causative staphylococcus. He was able to isolate this germ from the forward part of the nasal cavity in 94 per cent of a group of patients with recurrent sties. An ointment containing a nonabsorbable antibiotic was inserted into the nostrils four times a day for 10 days. The eyelids were untouched. This treatment was effective in breaking the run of sties in a large number of patients.

Twitching of the eyelids frequently is caused by fatigue, sinus infections, or the use of two many stimulants. It disappears after a suitable rest and less coffee, tea, and tobacco. Tablets or capsules of quinine sulfate help relieve muscle irritability. An additional aid is the application of moist compresses containing half strength witch hazel and water.

Middle-aged and elderly persons who have lost weight and have become inactive are more susceptible to leg crossing palsy. The nerve of the lower leg is no longer well protected by fat and muscles and is pressed upon when the legs are crossed.

O, to be in England, now that brandy is free. Under a recent ruling, a physician may prescribe brandy for a patient under the National Health Service. In 1957 the Ministry of Health held that gin could be prescribed under the service. What a way to waste the taxpayers' money.

The records of 1,062 men between the ages of 60 and 69 who had applied for life insurance were examined by a group of British physicians. Of the total, 20 per cent were free from demonstrable disease, and in nearly half of the remainder there was not serious difficulty. Only 10 per cent of the entire group were considered medically unfit for work. At least 75 per cent of the men worked beyond age 65 and it was concluded that 90 per cent could work if they wanted to.

TOMORROW: Improving brain circulation.

HOUSEWORK AT 65

Mrs. J. writes: Is heavy housework bad for a woman of 65 with high blood pressure?

REPLY

Moderation is safe. The answer depends on what the blood pressure has done to this woman and the condition of her blood vessels. But it is surprising how many women of this age and blood pressure do heavy work. In addition, women tolerate hypertension better than men.

A DISK SLIPPER

R. M. writes: I had three slipped disks removed last summer. Do you think any more will slip?

REPLY

I hope not. You have had more than par for the course, and I'm sure a record would be broken if your fears are materialized.

FLU AND THE BRAIN

W. R. writes: Does influenza affect the brain?

REPLY

Yes, as a complication of the disease. Headache, drowsiness, and stiff neck usually point to encephalitis. Recovery is the rule.

COLD COFFEE

M. L. writes: An older man prefers ice cold coffee to hot for all meals, even in the winter time. Is this doing him any harm?

REPLY

No. Every man to his taste.

Capitol Hill Trembles—And a Mouse Comes Forth

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The great Democratic 86th Congress—With majorities of 30 in the Senate and 130 in the House—Exercising last November's mandate from the voters—Operating under peerless leadership—Has now completed two months of labor; It has piled up a tremendous Congressional Record—Two thousand seven hundred and sixty pages of proceedings—One thousand eight hundred and ninety pages of Appendix—One thousand two hundred and seven Senate bills introduced—Five thousand and ninety-five House bills introduced—To say nothing of 707 resolutions.

After all these millions of words and mountainous labor—The 86th Congress has now brought forth one mouse: It is Public Law Number One—86th Congress (P.L. 86-1).

It fixes representation of the majority and minority members on the Joint Economic Committee!

BUT IF THIS GREAT act of statesmanship is supposed to correct everything wrong with the country, it may still leave something to be desired. Something is lacking.

Let no carping, critical soul think this is a record in do-nothingism, however. This is far for the course.

It always takes a new session of Congress about three months to roll up its sleeves and start to begin to commence to get ready to work.

Forty-two senators will be busy moving into their 20-million-dollar new office building. The other 55 will be moving into vacated space in the old office building, after renovations.

TRUE, DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY Leader Lyndon Johnson took over a whole suite of refurbished offices on the third floor of the Capitol's Senate wing. It has been dubbed "The Second White House." But even this move hasn't been able to speed up the legislative processes to save the country.

Right after the election there was a lot of big talk about how the new Democratic majorities would be so busy promoting their reforms that there wouldn't be time for intra-party fighting.

Leader Johnson spelled out a 12-point platform. It called for new vitality in the space program, new peaceful uses of atomic energy, bold and imaginative foreign policies, a consistent approach for the State Department's stepchild, Latin America, more aid for depressed areas, urban renewal, airport construction and water resources development, new farm, labor and housing legislation, with lower interest rates for all.

Just after Congress returned in January, Leader Johnson made a pep talk to the Democratic caucus in which he accused the Eisenhower administration of "moving hardly at all" and "exalting the static."

THIS IS THE ONLY caucus Senate Democrats have held this year. They held only one last year. This is what Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) complains about openly.

In the meantime, Senator Johnson has put over his own ideas on how Senate rules should be changed. He has also introduced his own bills on farm program, civil rights, space agency appropriations and several Texas public works.

The Senate has passed an airport construction bill which the House has cut down and a housing bill which the House has expanded.

In all, the Senate has passed four bills and the House three. Everything else is in the talk stage.

Boyle's Comment

By MAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old Westerns the he-man hero usually wound up being bussed by his faithful pony.

Because of a growing feminine interest in these hoofbeat sagas, however, horse kissing has died out as a major American art.

To please the ladies in the audience, the story now ends with the hero in a tender clench with the faithful dance hall hostess — and the faithful horse can go eat grass, for all anybody cares.

Kissing pretty actresses seems an ideal job to the average man. But there are days when Gene Barry would just as soon turn this chore over to a stand-in.

For a temperamental actress, he implied, can be worse than a temperamental mustang.

"Some of them try to give you that old feminine 'flimflam,'" Gene said.

"Then it's pretty hard to make love to them. But a fellow can always manage. I always ask myself, 'If their own mother loved them, why can't I?'"

Barry, like that real-life Western character, Billy the Kid, was born in New York City. In his first stage role he played Bluebeard in the sixth grade in Public School 121 in Brooklyn.

He began his professional career at 16. He sold jewelry, shoes and ladies' wear before making the big time on Broadway.

Since then he has been in a dozen films, traveled the night club circuit, and appeared on more than 100 television shows before he hit the real pay dirt as Bat Masterson.

His derby hat, tight suit and gold-headed cane—it often takes the place of a pistol—are now symbols of elegance to the teenagers (and middle-aged ladies) who idolize him.

He hopes to go on to directing and producing. But if the present mania for Westerns should fade and leave him stranded—unlikely, since he is a man of many talents—he's ready to take up a new career.

"I'd go in for contracting and building," he said. "I recently built my own house, and I like the field."

Barry recently said his goal was to have "a greater concern for the more simple and basic things" in life.

Then he added with a grin: "But first you gotta get rich. Then you don't have to worry about dough and can afford to squander your money on the simple, basic things."

More than 15 million hens in New Jersey lay more than two billion eggs a year.

Girl Scout Accolade

With three Girl Scout daughters, certainly an incentive to any mother working in the Scouting program, Mrs. Nelson A. Johnson 24 Oak street, will likely be an active affiliate for a number of years to come. Pictured here in a McGarry Photo, Mrs. Johnson first registered in Warren-Forest Girl Scout Council in 1937, although she had been active in the work earlier in Pittsburgh, and her service record locally has certainly earned her the Council's highest adult honor, the "Thanks Badge", awarded at the annual dinner-meeting Tuesday evening.

With activities reading like a "catalog of values", Mary Helen served as the Council's first employed registrar, continuing in that post for two years; was troop committee chairman for Troop 59 and troop committee member for the International Troop 100.

Another two-year period was spent as Day Camp director for the Cable Hollow Sales chairman. Presently she is serving her second year as chairman of camp committee.

Assuming leadership of Troop 35 in 1951, she has now seen these girls advance to Senior Scouts and is most gratified that two of her troop members have been chosen for the Senior Round-Up in Colorado Springs in July, with two others on the alternate list. Another activity of her troop has been organization of a unit at Warren State Hospital and a continuing active program with it.

When Service Awards were presented at last year's annual Council meeting, Mrs. Johnson was among recipients of 15-year pins.

Woman Spectator's Notes About the Passing Scene

It's my impression that—

Housewives complain more about the monotony of their job than any other group. Yet during an average day a housewife performs dozens of different tasks and probably has dozens of unexpected interruptions to keep her alert.

Wives who let their husbands take care of them are far more appreciated than wives who "wear the pants in the family." So why aren't there more clinging vines?

Men who claim their wives don't understand them seldom make any effort to understand their wives. If they feel so lonely being misunderstood, why don't they try being understanding?

Teen-agers would have more respect for adults if so many adults didn't try to act like teen-agers. If we are ashamed of being old, how do we expect young people to respect us because of our age?

It's my impression that—

More gossip gets passed along because women love to hold the center of the stage than because they are naturally malicious.

The middle years are the best years—only middle-aged persons seldom realize it until it is too late.

If the average woman did more for her husband and less for her children the whole family would be happier.

Women neither dress to please men or to impress other women but to build up self-confidence.

No one need ever feel obligated to attend the big parties of the hostess who "gets rid of all her social obligations" with one big party a year. If all she wants is to pay off her obligations she paid you when she invited you, so why bother to go?

DOWN THE MARRIAGE ROAD AT 130 MPH

She Races Against Her Husband—But Never Wins

By NEA SERVICE

SANDUSKY, Ohio—(NEA)—The combination of racing car and a 32-year-old secretary-housewife may sound like nightmare material for a male Sunday driver.

Actually, it adds up to a houseful of trophies and a life of excitement for a young Ohio couple.

Suzanne Deitrich, one of America's top women race drivers, has been sharing checkered flag honors with her husband, Chuck, for the past seven years.

Their interest in autos began as spectators at the Indianapolis 500-mile race. Soon they bought their first sports car and headed for the road racing circuits, from Akron, Ohio, to Nassau, Bahamas.

Their present car, a British Elva, is usually driven by Chuck for one race, then handed to Suzy to compete in the women's events on the same day.

In her years of racing she remembers just one really close call.

"THAT WAS in Nassau in 1957," she says.

"I was in third place when the car skidded on a turn and tumbled end over end into a jungle.

"You don't really have time to think. All I knew was that it was going to be bad, and I worried about the auto."

"I guess I was still worrying

Mrs. Suzanne Deitrich

about the car after it was over. When they tried to pull me out I asked them not to step on the metal. It's aluminum and dents easily."

When the ambulance brought her to Chuck's side she reacted like any housewife apologizing for an accident with the family sedan.

"I think I damaged the car dear," she murmured. "I think I rolled it over."

Although she has raced many times against her husband, Mrs. Deitrich has never beaten him, and doubts if she could.

"IN RACING," she points out, "even the best women drivers can't beat a good man. They don't have the stamina and aggressiveness. I think they're more careful."

Although men drivers are not really prejudiced against her, she notes, "Men hate to have women get ahead of them."

"They always go that little bit extra. I guess it's a male reaction."

speed shifting decide that the race track is for her. Mrs. Deitrich cautions that racing is an expensive hobby.

Unless a woman's husband operates a garage or has plenty of money, the cost, she says, is prohibitive. She works as Chuck's secretary in his foreign car agency near their home in Sandusky. Access to spare parts and Chuck's mechanics permit them to race continuously.

THE MODEST single-story Deitrich home is gilded with over 100 trophies and plaques. A third of these belong to Suzy.

She uses many of the silver bowls and plates in her daily routine as housewife, for serving salads, crackers and as cream pitchers.

She admits that, at first, the lure of trophies is a strong motive for winning, and losing a race comes hard.

"Later," she says, "you race to win, but learn to lose more gracefully."

"Some persons say that racing is like dope and it's terrible. But I don't think so."

"It's like tennis or any other sport. You get a certain feeling from doing something well—a little better than the last time."

"It's not much different from water skiing. You just go faster."

PTA GATHERING

YOUNGVILLE — When Pittsfield PTA met Monday evening, with 25 present, Mrs. Dorothy Chappel presided at the business session in the absence of Mrs. Lillian Jordan. She stated a report has been sent in by the Pittsfield school board that the fire escape door in room one is repaired, and an air vent will be put on the drain by Mr. Kibbey, also the heating problem will be taken care of by Chappel and Clark. Room award went to Mrs. Vincent's room.

Guest speaker was Richard Hess, psychologist for Warren county, who stated in 1939 a law was passed so each county would have supervision of special education, in 1953 a state fund was set aside for this purpose, and in 1955 it actually began.

Pennsylvania ranks first in the care of special education and California is next. On speech correction for handicapped children, he stated one out of every 25 persons spent some time at the state hospital, and future plans are to have special classes for the mentally gifted children. There is already a special school in Pittsburgh for this.

Hostesses for the lunch that followed were Mrs. Merrill Avery, Mrs. George Spinks, Mrs. Joe Rafalski.

Legion Auxiliary Has Many Events Planned

At the regular meeting of Chief Cornplanter Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, held last evening at the American Legion Home, members voted to add the Post in its annual Easter Egg Hunt, and sent donations to the Red Cross and Community Ambassador Fund.

Plans were completed for the American Legion 40th birthday tureen dinner, to be held at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at the Legion Home, when meat, potatoes, rolls and dessert will be furnished by the Auxiliary. Guest speaker will be Lewis Crippen.

A report was given on a successful rummage sale held last week, and members were reminded they may bring Mock Bake Sale envelopes to the next meeting, March 24th, which will be a tureen dinner; dessert and coffee furnished by committee. An Americanism program will be presented.

Mrs. Myrtle Cobb, community service chairman, gave a report of her work, and introduced Mrs. Lenore Jordan, Warren County probation officer for girls, who gave an interesting talk about her work.

Refreshments were served by Myrtle Cobb, assisted by Mildred Hudlow and Alberta Germonito.

Beauty Means Care and Interest

Beauty is as great an asset to the woman of fifty as it is to the teen-ager. The mature woman should have acquired grace, poise, and charm, and these, combined with physical attractiveness, give her a queenly poise. This woman is meticulous about every phase of grooming. She gives her hair a faithful one hundred brush strokes each day (left) and because it is silvery gray, she shampoos it often. A short nap in late afternoon (center) puts her on her feet for dinner. Here, she has blocked out light with an eye mask and has propped up her feet for better circulation. She is partial to touches of fresh and elegant white (right) for spring. But she makes very sure that such touches are kept really white.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Unless she is careless about her appearance, it's difficult these days to tell a woman's age. Every woman can keep herself youthfully attractive if she sets her mind to it. Good grooming and a lively interest in the world around her can make her seem years younger than she is.

Good grooming is the most important factor. Although the very young can get away with tousled hair and activity-rumpled clothes, the mature woman will find that they only emphasize her years.

Limp, straggly hair, too, is a sure giveaway of age. Frequent shampoos, a good professional haircut, and a hair style that is easily kept in place are MUSTS for anyone who wants to look chic at all times.

If your working day permits, a mid-afternoon rest, followed by a warm, sudsy bath, clean clothes and fresh make-up will help you meet the evening with renewed energy.

Be liberal with soap and water. At any age, there is no greater beauty aid. Avoid the more flamboyant shades of make-up and choose foundation creams and powders that are a shade darker than your skin.

For a glowing complexion, give yourself a sudsy facial several times a week. It's easy to do and stimulating to the skin. Coat your face and neck with thick soapsuds. Let the suds dry while you do your nails. Then wash off the soap with several rinses, ending with a tingly cold one.

Even for the mature woman, there are no holds barred when it comes to color in her wardrobe. Choose the colors most becoming to you, no matter how light or bright. If you choose dull, muted tones, relieve them with splashes of white at the neckline. Be sure, though, that the white is spotlessly clean. You'll get no admiration for wearing touches of tattletale gray.

Choose comfortable shoes. This does not mean dowdy shoes. There are many smart styles to choose from that are both smart-looking and a pleasure to walk in.

Your feet can send a distress message to your face that will rob you of beauty, so be sure you give them the care they deserve. Soak them in warm, sudsy water frequently, then massage them with skin cream. They carry you around all day and should be pampered.

Last, but far from least, be interested in world events, your community's activities, or develop a hobby. There's nothing like an avid interest in what's going on around you to make you a bright, poised conversationalist.

You don't have to be young to be glamorous. Soap-and-water-daintiness, discriminating taste in clothes and a genuine interest in your fellow man will make you a far more attractive woman than you were at 21.

BODY IN RIVER

A dispatch from Salamanca, N. Y., says: A 43-year-old Salamanca woman who went into the icy waters of the Allegany River, in front of her home about 7 a. m. Her body was found by Fireman A. Pul Schwab and Officer Charles Fluent in the Fire Dept. boat. Dr. James M. Happell of Salamanca, Cattaraugus County coroner, said he will issue a certificate of suicide. Mrs. Simons was reported to have been ill for several years. Proclamation

Wise use of our natural resources—our soils, waters, forests, grasslands, minerals and wildlife—is essential to the welfare of American people, our community, state, and nation. Proper care and protection for these resources cannot be provided without the support of an informed public.

Week of March 15 through 21 will be observed across the nation as National Wildlife Week. This is a time set aside for people to give special attention to the pressing problem of providing proper care for the lands and waters upon which all of us must depend. The 1959 Wildlife Week campaign focuses our attention on the need for teaching young people how they can meet the responsibilities of this stewardship.

We recognize that concern for our lands—like our concern for the welfare of other people—must be partially instilled in our young people through their training in school. It is appropriate, therefore, that 1959 National Wildlife Week should demonstrate the importance of making conversation—as it affects our day to day living and the present and future welfare of our nation—a part of the learning experience of our young people.

Stimulating public action to bring more conservation into the school programs of our universities, colleges, grade and high schools is hereby proclaimed as the goal of 1959 National Wildlife Week for the Borough of Warren. All citizens and public and private agencies of The Borough of Warren are urged to further this objective by helping to assess and publicize the need for conservation training in our schools so that the education of our young people in this vital area can be expanded through public understanding and support.

WILLIAM E. RICE, Burgess.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernia Winger, Warren County Agricultural Agent

Monday evening we participated in Career Night at the Warren High School and of course our part was to tell interested young people what future they could expect in agriculture.

Now it's the general opinion all over this country that agriculture has had it! It's all over—anyone with any intelligence at all should not even give this field any thought. The bright young fellows or girls future lies in fields of nuclear physics, guided missiles, space ships, or fashion designing. And I'll admit we need these folks—but there's still a wide open field in Agriculture.

Listen a moment to these facts. Of 65 million people employed in the United States, about 26 million work somewhere in agriculture—nearly 3 million process and distribute farm products. In addition, a half million scientists directly or indirectly serve agriculture. Around 40% of all jobs are in agriculture of some nature. One can actually count more than 500 distinct occupations in the agriculture fields of research, industry, business, education, communications, conservation, services, and actual farming.

A national study made in 1954 among the Land-Grant Colleges and Universities found that our country needs 10,000 graduates of agricultural colleges each year to fill important jobs. The study also found that only about one half of this number were being graduated each year, thus there exists two jobs for every graduate.

Let's consider some of the 8 fields that I've mentioned. Agriculture Research seeks new facts, makes something known out of the unknown, develops out of chemicals and bacteria and molds, substances that stimulate and protect, makes things work that never worked before, and finds new markets or better products for all markets. Soil chemists, bacteriologists and zoologists are examples in this field. In the field of Agricultural Business—stockyards, terminals, elevators, warehouses, commodity exchanges—all employ men who know farm products and know agriculture. Agricultural business also includes those engaged in financing and credit phase of agriculture and the transportation and storage of farm products.

In Agricultural Communications the field is really open. Such jobs as publication editors in the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Land Grant Colleges. Agricultural reporters, market news reporters are only a few of the "writing" jobs in journalism. Radio and T. V. stations hire people trained in agriculture to plan and produce farm programs.

Careers in Conservation are of two types—government and public service or private business. Within either one a person may hold such jobs as forest ranger, fishery biologist, naturalist, sawmill operator, wood technologist, land-use planner, park superintendent, or soil conservation service technician.

Certainly Agriculture today means much more than growing food and fibre. It is still the nation's biggest single industry with an investment well in excess of 170 billion dollars.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dale Van Every is a crop-haired pipe smoker who might be a newsman, movie producer or novelist.

Actually, he has been all three, but novels are his great love. That's why he gave up the well-cushioned chair of producer for the novelist's bed of nails.

Fifteen years later, his decision is being vindicated. His 10th book, "The Scarlet Feather" has been drawing excellent reviews and sharp interest from booksellers.

The novel has been purchased by producer Howard Beck, who plans to give it the wide-screen epic treatment. To further the book's fortunes, author Van Every came to town from his Santa Barbara home to explain why he abandoned Hollywood.

"I grew up in Michigan around the turn of the century, when there were still some vestiges of the frontier. Some of the pioneers who settled the country were still alive.

"These pioneers made a profound impression on me. They could be ruthless and dirty and wild, but by heaven, they weren't afraid of anything. That seems a rare quality to us in these times, when there is so much fear in the world.

"I became a newspaperman, covering the White House and such stories as Lindbergh's flight. That was exciting, and so was writing for movies, which I began in 1928, just as sound was coming in.

"But after a dozen or more years at it, I realized that movies are not a writer's medium. Nor is the position of writer-producer the answer. I did that, too, but I found there are too many elements that stand between the writer and putting his own work on the screen."

The writer stuck to the field that intrigued him most — the pioneering days of the Midwest. Now he is being hailed as the successor to Kenneth Roberts.

Lutheran Churchmen In District Session

Churchmen of Saron Lutheran parish in Youngsville were hosts Sunday afternoon to Churchmen of the Warren District, with 48 in attendance, representing Titusville, Warren, Sheffield and Ludlow; also several from Tabor Lutheran church of Kane, Wilcox District. Purpose of the session was "church ushering", to help prepare for worship, act as host for God, and maintain order during worship.

Henry Hanson, of Sheffield, president of Warren District Churchmen, presided. Rev. Carl Eliason, pastor of Sheffield Bethany and Moriah Lutheran church of Ludlow, conducted devotions.

Mr. Hanson introduced Everett Benson, of Sheffield Churchmen, as instructor for the topic "The Purpose of Church Ushering". He outlined for the group many rules and regulations necessary for a good usher.

Rev. Russell C. Lundgren, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church of Titusville, also an instructor, used as his topic "The Inspiration of Ushering", and stressed the importance of ushering as specialized work in the glory of God.

Mr. Hanson announced a meeting of Warren District Churchmen, consisting of Warren, Ludlow, Sheffield and Youngsville, to be held in Warren May 14.

In conclusion, a hymn was sung in unison, with Rev. Lundgren at the organ. Rev. Eliason gave the benediction.

Churchmen were then invited to the church dining room for a light lunch, in charge of the following committee: J. Gordon Clark, Kenneth Johnson, Carl Rosendale.

New Hospital Bulk Oxygen Storage

Warren General Hospital, in its continuing efforts to provide the latest equipment and services, has installed a new bulk liquid oxygen tank on its property just west of the hospital buildings. This new tank, shown above in a Stokes Studio photo, replaces a number of smaller tanks and provides a two-weeks supply of oxygen before refilling.

Officials state Warren General Hospital is one of the first in the area to install this new and safer method of storing oxygen. Protection for the new tank has been provided with installation of suitable fencing about it.

Howard Lauffenburger, vice president of Penn Furnace and Iron Company, stated his firm has been making these units for Ohio Chemical and Surgical Equipment Company, of Buffalo and Madison, Wis., for about the last eight years.

Both inner and outer tanks are completely insulated and built entirely of aluminum, with nine inches of insulation between inner and outer shell. Penn Furnace designed and built the first tanks for carrying liquid oxygen.

The unit was delivered to the hospital on a semi-trailer of the Ohio Chemical Company, which has about 50 of these units throughout the United States, from Boston to California.

Proposed Law To Safeguard News Sources Part of Move To Protect All Reporters

By KENNETH WRITING
Associated Press Staff Writer

"I think reporters for newspapers, radio and television should have the same safeguarded relationship with news sources as lawyers have with clients and doctors with patients," an Illinois lawmaker said before introducing a bill in the state legislature.

The proposed law, by Rep. Michael Zlatnik (D-Chicago) is part of a widespread move to extend protection to reporters who refuse to name the source of the news they gather.

Proposed new laws or amendments have been introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives and at least 10 state legislatures in the wake of the widely publicized Marie Torre case.

Miss Torre, a radio-TV columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, served a 10-day jail sentence for contempt of court. She declined to name the source of comment about entertainer Judy Garland she used in a story. The publicity spurred attempts to detail just how far a newsman may go in protecting his sources.

Four separate bills are pending in New York state, one of Miss Torre's trial and conviction.

They provide that (1) no newspaper publisher, editor or reporter could be compelled to disclose the source of information committed confidentially; (2) persons who gather, publish, broadcast or televise news could not be punished for criminal contempt for refusal to disclose news sources; (3) newspaper radio and television personnel could not be compelled to testify or disclose sources at any proceedings of any court or government agency and (4) news reporters would have immunity from disclosing sources only if they had pledged secrecy to the source and the information could not have been obtained without such a pledge.

Twelve states already have laws which are generally similar and two of them, Pennsylvania and Ohio, are considering revisions to extend such protection to radio and TV reporters.

The first state to provide legal protection for newsmen was Maryland in 1896. Similar statutes are in effect in Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Montana, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

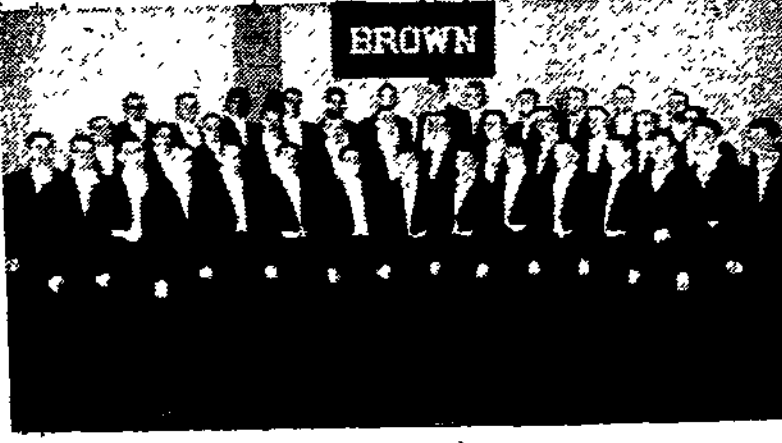

Just last week a trial judge reaffirmed a reporter's right, under the California law, to refuse to reveal the source of a newspaper story.

Fred Sorn, reporter for the Peninsula Herald of Monterey invoked this section of the state's civil code in declining to answer a question at a perjury trial.

The California Supreme Court previously upheld the constitutionality of the law.

Besides Illinois and New York, new measures have been dropped into legislative hoppers in Iowa, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont and Utah.

Food Review

By The Associated Press

Beef and pork monopolize the headlines in grocery store advertising this week.

Roast beef priced to catch the housewife's bargain-hunting eye is about evenly divided between the more expensive rib cuts and chuck roast.

Pork specials range from small fresh hams to expensive pork chops and cured hams. Picnic hams, sausage, pork loin and pork shoulder are also among the favored items.

Eggs are a penny or two cheaper in several areas.

Vegetable bargains are plentiful, with potatoes, endive, escarole, lettuce, celery, carrots, spinach, collard, kale and radishes heading the list. Cabbage, Idaho potatoes, broccoli and broccolirabe also are good buys.

Cucumbers, asparagus, eggplant, cauliflower and squash are more expensive this week.

Best buys among fruits include California naval oranges, Florida grapefruit and Valencia oranges, pineapples, limes, bananas, avocados and several varieties of small cooking apples.

Western pears, California grapes and eating apples also are good buys.

President Woodrow Wilson made his noted "The Fourteen Points" speech before the U. S. Congress on Jan. 8, 1918.

Fancy Being

Experts . . .

When it comes to this grocery business, it's plain as parsnips who has the last say-so. You an' me an' all the other family food shoppers.

You reach for a can of this — or 2 for 19¢ of that — and growers, shippers, buyers, dietitians, chefs and a whole passel of other experts know they're on the right track. You're the customer. Their life's work is to please you.

That's good, and it's why I'm so pleased to know Nu-Way is now part of American Stores Co. They say American Stores has grown to be the world's fourth largest grocery chain. Only one way that could come about — by offering top grade foods, displaying 'em attractively, providing helpful service, and keeping prices so low you get more change at the check-out.

Now with Nu-Way bringing to town the advantages of this huge operation, we'll all benefit. As my grandma used to say, more of what's good is better . . . and it does seem Nu-Way's out to prove it with this week's offers.

Another good thing — I see Nu-Way's Dollar Doubler premium plan is going right on, big as life.

Happy Shopping.

On hand to greet and instruct the large group of district and branch chairmen were Col. Edward Ayres; Wayne Delchambre, Robert Young, Richard W. Meacham, Mrs. Charles Chew; and Miss Mina Rieder, Warren County unit executive director.

Each district was represented, with the following attending: Mrs. Marion Davis, Edgar Pendleton, Miss Emma Christian from the Crusade committee; Mrs. C. R. Hooven, Mrs. Scott Stuart, Mrs. Clyde Miller, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. L. P. Clements, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. John Yusko, Mrs. Roy Krzewinski, Mrs. Richard Cook, Mrs. Lyle Rulander, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Norman Johnson, Mrs. Robert Probst, Miss Betty Lyle, district chairmen; Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. A. A. Grant, Mrs. Merle Schweitzer, Mrs. Ralph Rapp, Mrs. Arthur Kay, branch chairmen; and guest Mrs. John McGarry, photographer.

Letters to Editor

Editor
Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Mr. Lowrey:

The Warren County Ministerial Association meeting, in official body on March 2, 1959, took cognizance of the fact that legislation is pending in our State Capitol to bring about legalization of horse-race betting and bingo in the Commonwealth. I am instructed by the Association to write you to inform you that the Warren County Ministerial Association vehemently protests against the enactment of such legislation. We have written to the Governor of Pennsylvania and to our representative and senator in the state capitol to make them aware of this stand and to ask them to act accordingly to the dictates of their good consciences in the decision they must make on behalf of the people they represent.

To balance the economy—or think it can be brought about—of a State or Community on such unstable and uprighteous foundation as to legalize sin is at the least an act of offense to the very fine sensibilities of all Christian and right-thinking persons dwelling within the borders of that particular governmental power.

We would also acquaint you with the fact that the Warren County Ministerial Association is opposed to the ever-growing desecration of Sunday as pertaining to the trends of merchants to remain open for business on this day. Most especially would we oppose any body granting the right for any business to deal in the merchandising of liquors on Sunday. Please continue to be aware of this fact.

Most sincerely,
Carl E. Nelson
Secretary

Three-D Examination Proposed for Eyes

Modern techniques and the solution of present problems concerning eye care will be thoroughly discussed when optometrists from seven states meet in Baltimore next month.

Next time you have your eyes examined, you may find yourself watching letters flit in three-D along a mountainside or between plow furrows.

This examination technique, called "Natural Color Stereooscopic Refraction", will be taught the optometrists during a postgraduate institute April 5-6. Pennsylvania eye doctors will be attending.

Special techniques for handling of patients with deafness, cerebral palsy and other disabilities which complicate the doctor-patient relationships and a new credit plan which will help to make vision care more readily available to lower income families will be presented.

The three-D examination adds an extra 10 to 15 minutes to eye examination, and enables optometrist to prescribe so that his patient will not only see better but also more comfortably.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
AP Radio-TV Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co. proposes that the scope of Pulitzer prizes be expanded to include television.

Sarnoff said in part: "I believe television's ability to attract the finest creative talent would be increased if it were possible for a TV drama to win America's most universally respected mark of creative excellence, a Pulitzer Prize."

"I further believe Pulitzer recognition could do much to stimulate electronic journalism—a form of journalism which is now within the province of Mr. Pulitzer's heirs and of many other distinguished American publishers."

It strikes me, personally, that Sarnoff views the Pulitzer from a slightly different angle than what I take to be the view of the board that awards them.

Trying to read anyone's mind is risky, but I gather Sarnoff views the Pulitzer as a stimulus to creative talent. The board, on the other hand, views its prizes as awards for specific pieces of work accomplished by a single or group talent—and if they stimulate others to excellence, so much the better.

Personally, I don't believe that anyone ever tried to accomplish anything because he hoped to win a Pulitzer Prize. Surely the expectation of a Pulitzer never inspired anyone to write two lines of poetry (to name one category of awards) or to undergo the grueling labor of writing a novel (to name another). Why, then, should it lead anyone to write a television drama?

Sarnoff's argument is weakened, in my opinion, because he fails to list a dozen or more original television dramas which he considers prize material. I believe he did not because he could not. They simply didn't exist in 1958.

And I can't believe that a dozen or so outstanding originals would suddenly be produced in 1959 simply because the possibility of a Pulitzer Prize came into being.

Personally, I think it would be grand if television's best works were eligible for Pulitzer Prizes. But I doubt that it will come to pass until the industry can proudly offer 15 or 20 outstanding original dramas as proof of its maturity and vitality.

Many Changes In Brokenstraw Teaching Staff

At the regular meeting of the Joint Committee of Brokenstraw Valley Joint School System, held Monday evening at Youngsville High School building, the Board received from Mrs. Fern Whiteley, primary teacher at Lottsville Elementary School, a statement of her retirement at the close of the current school year.

Mr. Sherwood in his report announced that Mrs. Ella Culver will teach in the Youngsville Elementary School the remainder of this school year in the fifth and sixth grade room. Mrs. Culver is a former elementary teacher and has been serving as a substitute teacher for the last few years.

Richard L. Praetzel, mathematics teacher and basketball coach at the High School, presented a request for a one-year leave of absence from his teaching duties in order to accept a scholarship which has been offered him through Pennsylvania State University. This scholarship will afford Mr. Praetzel an opportunity to complete requirements for a master's degree. The request was unanimously approved.

The supervising principal's report stated that Miss Edith York, a teacher in Irvine Elementary School, has accepted the Junior High School reading assignment beginning September 1959.

Merle See, chief of Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department, and a committee composed of Wyllys Johnson and Donald Aberg, attended the meeting and reported to the board in full on the recent fire in Youngsville Elementary School. The committee also recommended the board consider installation of fire alarm equipment which would connect the building alarms to the fire whistle. The possibilities of such an installation were discussed at some length after which the Board requested that Mr. See get for their consideration cost estimates.

Bills in the amount of $12,821.16 were approved and ordered paid. It was noted that vocational reimbursement in the amount of $2,335.87 had been received.

Mr. Sherwood reported the Student Exchange program is well under way and the local chapter has been approved by the American Field Service. It was reported the Iowa Test of Educational Development has recently been administered to all members of the Senior Class as a part of the regular testing program of the school.

The librarian's report for the month of February indicated that 18 new volumes had been added to the collection during the month, making the total collection 4181. Other figures in this report indicated an average daily circulation of 82 volumes as compared to an average circulation of 74 volumes during the same period in 1958.

South really had to go out of his way to get set at his four-heart contract.

He won the opening lead and noted that the only way he could lose his contract would be to find all four trumps in one hand and the diamond king in West.

He noted a possible safety play to guard against that 4-0 trump break provided it would be East that would show up with all four trumps. South promptly led a trump to dummy's queen. If West showed out he intended to lead a heart through East and get back to dummy for a second heart finesse by underleading his ace of diamonds.

Unfortunately for this South both opponents followed to the first trump so there was no problem in that suit.

Now South swapped horses in mid stream. Instead of simply drawing trumps and conceding one trick in each other suit he decided to take the diamond finesse, his was right up West's alley. He took his king and led another diamond which East ruffed.

South still had to lose a spade and a club and his fine contract had been tossed bodily out the window.

Magazine Prints Excerpts From Ike's Letters

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower once said he would like to see a new Cabinet post of vast power created — a sort of super secretary of state.

He made the suggestion a year ago, in a letter to a friend. He said his choice for the post was Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Life magazine today published an excerpt from the letter, along with other private letters of the President.

Eisenhower favored calling the new post "the first secretary of the government," and entrusting to the man who held it the direction of seven major federal agencies in their dealings with international affairs.

The White House declined to comment on the letters.

Eisenhower said creation of the post would be his "ideal organizational change."

The new Cabinet officer would be responsible to the President, Eisenhower wrote, and "would be relieved of the chore of meeting with committees and long hours of detailed discussion and argument — he would be given time to think."

In other letters the President aired his views about Vice President Richard M. Nixon and newspapermen.

Some of the President's views: NIXON — "Actually, so far as I know, there has been no vice president in all our history, and I am including Teddy Roosevelt, who was, during his incumbency of that office, kept so well informed, so busy, so usefully employed."

NEWSPAPERMEN — "Your mention of Dick Nixon reminds me how difficult it is sometimes for newspapermen — possibly I should say commentators — to believe the plain unvarnished truth. I went out of my way to say how satisfactory Dick Nixon is to me, then I find one columnist says 'The ditches Dick.'"

SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD — "Community Service" was the topic for the Monday evening meeting of American Legion Auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. E. R. Ayers. Mabel Carlson was in charge of the program. Donations were given to five organizations for the Community Service projects.

Mrs. Ruth Howarth, president, and Mabel Carlson were welcomed back after their illness. Mrs. Ben Johnson, poppy chairman, stressed that poppies be ordered for sale on poppy Day, and financing of the veterans' rehabilitation and child welfare programs. The March Birthday dinner for veterans is cancelled, as the Legion Home was damaged by the flood, and repairs cannot be made until warmer weather.

The "white mule" was awarded.

Teens Need Grooming Practice

The teen-ager who feels that she is hopeless and will NEVER grow up to look like Elizabeth Taylor or Kim Novak is probably half right. That is, she most likely won't look like a movie star. If she's lucky, she'll just have a normal and pleasant life.

But the fact that she can't seem to catch on to good grooming, make-up and all the little tricks that really sophisticated older women of about 21 seem to know needn't plunge her into despair. For practice does make perfect and even the seediest sunflower has a way of blossoming, almost overnight, into a camellia. So don't give up hope.

Meanwhile, do practice away at good looks every day. Keep your skin radiant clean, your hair brushed and shampooed, your clothes neat, your stockings straight, your shoes polished. Remember that a messy teenager is anything but appetizing to look at. And your favorite glamour girl wouldn't think of trotting about looking her worst.

Some women are born with a flair for clothes, some acquire it and some never learn. But you don't have to belong to the last group. You can learn from your mistakes, from each and every mistake.

The shoes that make your feet look like horses' hooves. The wide belt that saws you in two. The hat that hides your face, turning you into a mushroom. The green dress that makes your skin sallow.

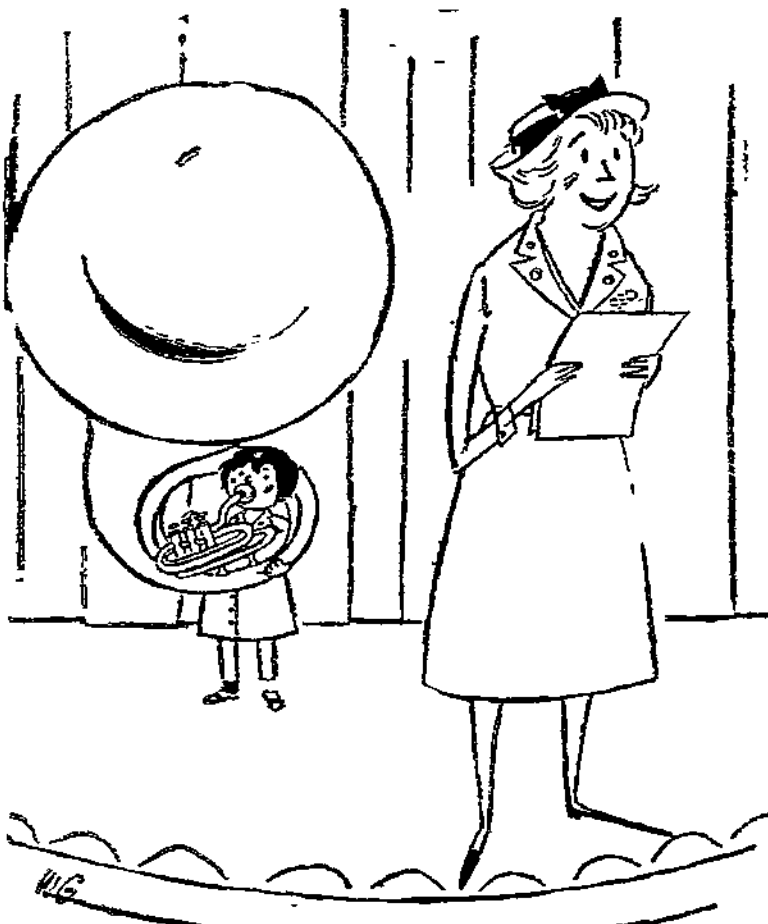

Don't clutch each mistake to you and punish yourself by wearing it. Instead, acknowledge that you've made a mistake and sell it. Or give it away. If you MUST wear it, don't do it with the air of a martyr. Learn from it. Learn not to do this particular, unbecoming thing again.

Gradually, you should evolve an idea of the clothes that get along best with you, physically, and your personality.

The older woman who persists in wearing her hair in a longish bob is fooling only herself. Actually, she's dating herself and making herself look older.

The most becoming hairdo for a mature woman can be found in long hair worn as some variation of the chignon or in very short and skillfully cut hair. Both are fairly easy to keep and both add to the charm of an older

THE REAL MCCOY—Walter Brennan casts his famous raised-eyebrows smile at a television studio egg. The 63-year-old actor stars in the TV barnyard comedy, "The Real McCoy's."

GAY YOUNG DOG—It's spring in San Francisco and in spring, a young Weimaraner's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of beer. Pop, the dog in question, can't wait till the blessed brew hits the glass but lets it run soothingly over his parched tongue.

The Mature Parent

Assert Authority; Don't Let One Child Play Boss

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

As we transfer the contents of our calfskin bag to our evening-in-town one, we say, "Remember, Jinny, there's chicken in the refrigerator. You know how to mix the salad dressing. The oven's keeping your cheese macaroni hot. If the boys want dessert, open a can of fruit and..."

John's voice is challenging. "Is Jinny the boss?" he demands. "We don't have to do what she says, do we?" "Yes, you do," Jinny says boldly. "They do, don't they, Mother? If I tell John to turn off his TV cartoons, he has to do it, doesn't he? I can make him let me look at the Fred Astaire movie, can't I?"

We look at the three anxious faces of our children, take a deep breath and say, "Daddy and I are the boss. Nobody's the boss but us."

"So, John, you're to turn off your TV cartoons at 7:30 exactly so that Jinny can look at her movie. And I want you and Buddy in bed by 8:30. No stalling. Is that clear? Oh—and if you want some chocolate cookies with your fruit, tell Jinny and she'll give them to you. Is that clear, too, Jinny?"

It's clear—but not wholly reassuring. It can't be perfectly reassuring because we can't foresee and settle all the battles that may arise in our absence. But it's much, much more reassuring than if we'd delegated our authority to any one of our competitive youngsters.

Because their struggle for the boss title is really their struggle for the title of Most Loved Child.

That is why we can't grant the boss title to any of them. And why, before an absence from home, it's smart to reassert our own authority by making demands on them as clear and complete as we can. Even if it's only a ghostly authority we leave behind us, it will be more acceptable than any Jinny or her brothers can assert over each other.

Brothers and sisters have many tricks by which to make us declare a favoritism that allows them to lord it over each other. The boss business is just another battle in the old war for preference.

If we want to minimize power fights in our absence, we'll claim the boss title as ours alone. What we're doing is making ourselves instead of Jinny or John, the target for resentments that may arise

Forest Co. Gardeners Plan Meeting Tuesday

Forest county home gardeners will meet on Tuesday, March 17, to get the latest information on varieties of quality to use fresh and to freeze, liming, fertilizing, and culture of vegetables, according to an announcement from County Agent Russell M. Smith.

Penn State Vegetable Extension Specialist J. O. Dutt will be the speaker at each meeting. The meeting for gardeners in the western Forest county area will be at 2 p. m. in the new Fire Hall at Tionesta.

For gardeners of Marienville and vicinity, the meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. in the home economics room of East Forest School.

Good gardens contribute to the well-being of many families by supplying more tasty products, healthful foods, saving money, furnishing outdoor recreation, and providing occupation for children, says County Agent Smith.

Johnson Disagrees With Ike Army Composition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army officials are sticking to the view that they need a bigger force than President Eisenhower's budget provides, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said Wednesday.

"One conclusion is inescapable," Johnson said. "That is that the size and composition of the Army does not reflect the judgment of the men who must lead the Army in the event the Army must be used."

The Senate Democratic leader told newsmen of the Army reaction after a closed-door session in which his preparedness subcommittee questioned the ground forces leaders.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), said Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, had shown "very clearly that he completely disagrees with the administration position" on the Army's size.

Taylor himself told newsmen "the simple facts of history show I twice have recommended 925,000 men" for the Army. Asked if this remains his position, he nodded.

Under the administration's budget plans, the Army is being cut from 900,000 to 870,000, a size it is expected to reach June 30.

Alaska-Bound Pioneers Stop at Glasgow, Mont.

GLASGOW, Mont. (AP) — Applauding Montanans gave the 59ers a carpet beater to "fight off Alaskan mosquitoes" and turned the Glasgow Civic Center into a bath house for the weary voyagers Wednesday night.

When the refreshing stop ended this morning, the 34 Alaska-bound pioneers started the remaining 2,000 miles of their motor trip, swinging north into Canada.

A venison dinner, games and square dancing came after the bath. One woman said the bath was her first since the group left Detroit last Thursday.

The caravan includes cars, trucks, trailers, station wagons and a 1934 model moving van.

Melbourne Students Oppose Graham Crusade

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Advertisements for a revival meeting Billy Graham will hold at Melbourne University Friday were removed during the night.

Organizers of the American evangelist's local crusade said some of the students are opposed to the meeting.

Graham winds up his crusade in Melbourne Sunday and will take a two-week holiday on the Queensland coast.

Thomas Jefferson was an enthusiastic book collector; assembled three extensive libraries.

Montreal Star Has Chance to Set New Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DICKIE Moore, Montreal Canadiens left winger and leading scorer in the National Hockey League, had a chance today to break Gordie Howe's all-time point record for one season.

Moore tallied his 38th goal of the season and collected two assists Wednesday night at Toronto when the Canadiens trounced the Maple Leafs 6-2. Moore, with 48 assists, now has 86 points, having scored 49 goals and had 46 assists when he set the record of 95 points with the Detroit Red Wings in the 1952-53 season.

With five games left before the Canadiens go into the Stanley Cup playoffs, Moore has only to average two points per contest.

Meanwhile the Chicago Black Hawks ended a three-game losing streak by whipping the New York Rangers 5-0, thus clinching a playoff berth for the first time in six years.

Andy Bathgate registered the three goal hat-trick for the first time this season Wednesday, however, failed to gain on Moore and Montreal's Jean Beliveau in the scoring race.

Ernie Banks Not Worried About A Repeat This Year

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Ernie Banks, a fellow who could probably relax falling down an elevator shaft, is not at all worried about what to do for an encore after his great 1958 season.

"I'll feel very fortunate if I can just play 154 games this year," the soft-spoken Chicago shortstop said during a dugout chat at the Cubs' spring training base.

"I'm not bothered at all about whether I'll have another season like the last one."

Banks was named Most Valuable Player in the National League last year after he hit 47 homers, drove in 129 runs and batted .313. This naturally made him one of the stars of the winter banquet circuit.

But after putting away all that food, he was still trim, so he didn't have to run through any special exercises.

Ernie was asked how a fellow of his lean construction manages to hit the ball so far so often.

"I never concentrate on hitting the ball out of the park. I just go for the base hits."

DeMarco Manages To Stop Curley In Eighth Round

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—Tough Tony DeMarco, the million dollars baby of Boston boxing, set his sights high today after convincing himself he isn't washed up at 27.

The former welterweight champion passed his initial test after a 14-month layoff by stopping George (Curley) Monroe of Worcester at 1:09 of the eighth round of a scheduled 10 Wednesday night at the Garden.

"I proved to myself that I still have it," DeMarco said. "I feel wonderful. I want to keep busy and hope to fight my way back into the title picture."

The squat Boston slugger also proved something to a crowd of 7,940 which paid a gross of $24,582. He showed that he has not lost the dramatic touch which made him a great local ring attraction.

DeMarco flashed much of his old-time form and tremendous punching power in flooring Monroe twice. At other times he resembled the DeMarco of old with wild attempts which enabled Monroe to get off the hook and stay upright.

DeMarco floored Monroe, cutting his lip, with a long right in the seventh round to set the stage for an uproarious end.

Monroe's handlers tried to stop the fight, but Referee Jim McCarron insisted the fighters come out for the eighth. When Monroe went down from a wicked left hook to the body, the referee called a halt.

Nat'l Invitation Cage Tournament In First Round

Butler plays Fordham and Villanova challenges St. John's (NY) in a first round doubleheader as the National Invitation Tournament steps into the spotlight tonight.

The doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden tips off the 22nd annual edition of the NIT. The NCAA small college tourney reaches the semifinal stage at Evansville, Ind. The NAIA scrambling goes into the quarter-finals at Kansas City, and the National Collegiate (NCAA) tournament takes its last breath before plunging into four big regional tournaments.

Fordham (16-7), one of four teams from the New York area in the 12-team tournament that winds up March 21, is a four-point favorite over Butler. The Indiana team shows an 18-8 record but has nailed 18 victories in its last 21 starts after dropping its first five.

St. John's (16-6), apparently out of the slump that struck after the Redmen had won 12 of their 13, is an eight-point choice over Villanova (18-6).

The NCAA tournament moves back into prominence Friday night with regional doubleheaders at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

The field of 16 was completed Wednesday night when Idaho State's Rocky Mountain perennials nipped Border Conference champion New Mexico State 62-61. Idaho State, playing in the NCAA for the seventh straight year, will meet St. Mary's (Calif) in the Far Western regional at San Francisco Friday night.

Training Camp News

Associated Press Sports Writer
Wally Post may supply the right answer to the Philadelphia Phillies' question: "Who will share the outfield with Richie Ashburn and Harry Anderson?"

Ashburn, the National League's batting king in 1958 with a .350 average, and Anderson, the sophomore who hit .301 with 97 runs batted in and had 23 homers, need help to get the Phils out of the NL cellar.

Post was supposed to supplant the power the Phils missed in 1957 when Del Ennis went to St. Louis after the 1956 season. Philadelphia gave the Cincinnati Reds pitcher Harvey Haddix in exchange for Post.

Things didn't work out as planned last year. Post wound up being platooned with Rip Repulisti and Anderson, and doing a lot of pinchhitting. He finished with a respectable .282 batting average, but had only 12 homers (four as pinchhitter) and 62 RBI.

Post went about nailing down the outfield job Wednesday with a pair of home runs in a 17-hit Philadelphia attack that demolished Freee also homered for the Phils and rookies Jim Pisoni and Chuck Cottier did likewise for the Braves.

The Braves' Carlton Willey, Bob Rush, Bob Buhl and Dale Hendrickson were the victims of the Phils' attack.

Hank Sauer's grand slam homer highlighted a six-run eighth inning to give the San Francisco Giants a 10-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Cal Neeman and Tony Taylor hit home runs for Chicago.

Don Demeter's long single gave Los Angeles a 7-6 victory over Cincinnati. Johnny Temple, with four hits, and Roy McMillan with three and three RBI, paced the Cincinnati attack.

Bill Veeck Having Trouble Catching Up With Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball's strangest stalemate continued today with the self-styled boss of the Chicago White Sox ignoring the man who just assumed control of the club, or thought he did.

Bill Veeck, who Tuesday bought 54 per cent of the club, said he would visit Comiskey Park for the second consecutive day with hopes of an official, get-together with Vice President Chuck Comiskey.

Comiskey hastily departed the ball park Wednesday just as Veeck and his to sociate, Hank Greenberg, arrived for a first look at "what we bought."

Comiskey didn't even return a distant wave by Greenberg from in front of the park where he and Veeck were being photographed.

Chuck said if his path crossed Veeck's, he'd talk with him, but not on Sox business. "I'm not officially or unofficially notified by a bona fide Sox officer yet that my sister's (Dorothy's) stock has been sold," said Chuck. "I don't know what position Veeck holds."

Veeck has announced that John Rigney, Dorothy's husband and the other Sox vice president, appointed him and Greenberg "executive assistants."

Up until now, Comiskey has been handling all front office preparations for the 1959 Sox season.

Until Chuck's appeal is heard in Circuit Court on a Probate Court ruling last week which permitted Dorothy to sell to Veeck, Rigney appears cast in a role of liaison man between Chuck and Bill. The appeal may not be heard for several weeks.

Sunburst Map Shows Waterfowl Migration

Game Commission has prepared a duck map which at first glance appears to show a sunburst pattern.

Lines radiate every which way from Pennsylvania to indicate where waterfowl are eased by the Commission in last eight years were reported taken by hunters. The map may be obtained without cost from Commission's Division of Propagation.

Beginning in 1951 and continuing into early summer of 1958 the wildlife agency reared, banded and liberated 58,168 mallard ducks. As of Jan. 31 of this year, bands were received from birds who made trips as far as Florida, Arkansas, Alabama, North and South Dakota and Canada.

Phils Hoping Things Will Brighten a Little

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies are predicting cautiously that things might be different this year if guys like Wally Post look as good in July as they do now.

Post himself is predicting 40 home runs. He made the prediction Wednesday after slamming two homers in the Phils 13-7 victory over the Milwaukee Braves at Bradenton.

The big outfielder is counted on for home runs. Last year, when the Phils finished last, he hit only 12 and had a .282 average.

"I'm ready now," he said Wednesday. "I've got the timing, the confidence, and I'm in condition."

He makes one qualification though.

"I'm not the kind of guy who can go in and out of a line-up I get all loved up at the plate." Last year he played in 110 games.

The Phils play the Braves here today.

Detroit Pfeiffers To Hit the Slides Tonight in A.B.C.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Another well-armed challenger will attempt to wrest the American Bowling Congress Tournament team lead from the Detroit Pfeiffers tonight.

Stroh's Beer, also of Detroit, will try to better the record 3243 series which put Pfeiffers in first place in the open division more than two weeks ago.

The Munsingwear team of Chicago, led by Buddy Bomar, was the latest team to fall short of Pfeiffers' imposing score. The club rolled a 2947 series Wednesday night, not even good enough for a place in the top 10.

A daridorse team gained third place. Leonard Sales of St. Louis, paced by Frank Lucido's 691 series, rolled 989, 1035, 1138-3142.

There were no changes in the top 10 standings of the singles, doubles and booster team divisions.

Traynor Says Big Klu Key to Pirate Chances

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Ted Kluszewski is the key to the Pittsburgh Pirates' National League pennant chances, says ex-Pirate great Pie Traynor.

"I don't think they can do it without him," the Hall of Fame member said Wednesday. "The club definitely has to play the big guy regularly at first base."

Traynor said when he first came to the spring training camp two weeks ago he thought no player on the squad could drive in over 65 or 70 runs.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you.

There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the depend-

Golden Glovers Clash in Chicago On March 25th

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's Golden Glovers, the best amateur scrappers in the West, will take boxing skill rather than punching power against New York in the March 25 intercity bouts here.

This was demonstrated clearly Wednesday night before 11,243 in Chicago Stadium and a national television audience in Chicago's tourney of champions finals.

Four of the amateur stars, including one of the two defending champions, won their titles before the TV camera.

Wilbur Mc Clure, Toledo, Ohio, retained his 160-pound championship with a decision over Cincinnati's Herbert Wills.

The others who won titles "on camera" included heavyweight Jimmy Jones, 18, an unemployed Chicago representative; welterweight Don Sargent, a truck driver from Minneapolis; and Cassius Clay, 17, a high school light heavy from Louisville, Ky.

The only other returning champion, little Gil Yanez of Toledo, retained his flyweight crown with a decision over Oscar German, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Four teams — Chicago, Nashville, Cincinnati and Toledo — shared the team crown with 14 points each, a point for each bout won in the entire tourney.

Chairman Named For 21st National Wildlife Week

Seth L. Myers, Sharon, has been named statewide chairman to direct 1959 National Wildlife Week program in Pennsylvania. Appointment was announced by Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen Clubs which joins with National Wildlife Federation in sponsorship of the event.

Myers said the theme of 1959 Wildlife Week, "Conservation in the Schools," is intended to highlight the need for a better understanding of basic natural resource problems.

"Primary goal of National Wildlife Week this year is to get people, especially young folks, thinking about resource conservation and the tremendous impact it can have upon the future of this nation for generations to come," Myers stated. "Need for conservation will become greater as our population continues to expand and make additional demands upon the basic soil-and-water resources," he added.

Warren Field and Stream club is observing the special week, along with the Federation and state affiliates. This will mark the 21st year, first one observed when proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938.

Farrell Is New Class A Champion Of the W.P.I.A.L.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Farrell is the new Class A basketball champion of the WPIAL and will represent District 7 for the fifth time in the PIAA playoffs. The Steelers took the title Wednesday night by whipping defending champion Charleroi 70-47 at the Pitt Fieldhouse. Farrell will meet Altoona Saturday night at the Fieldhouse in a PIAA western playoff.

The Steelers, who bowed to Charleroi during the regular season, broke the game wide open in the last period with 22 points after a nip-and-tuck first three quarters.

Willie Somerset of Farrell took game scoring honors with 20 points. Al Thirby was high for the losers with 13.

Farrell has won the Class A WPIAL title in 1951, 1952, 1954 and 1956. It went on to take the state Class A title in 1956.

Small Schools Should Settle Class C; St. Vincent Favored

By FRED WALTERS THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Two of the best small schools in the state met tonight in a game that should pretty much settle the 1959 PIAA Class C state championship.

The state "C" final is, of course, still more than a week away, but it appears that West Reading, the Dist. 3 titlist, and Jim Thorpe, Dist. 11, are the best of the lot. It is unfortunate that this crucial meeting has to come up so early in the interdistrict playoff schedule.

West Reading has one of the biggest attractions in high school basketball in sophomore Ron Krick, a growing boy who now has reached 6-foot-7. Krick scored 36 points in the Dist. 3 title game Tuesday night, running his season's output to 347 points in 25 games.

Jim Thorpe already has one interdistrict game under its belt. It beat Dist. 1 champion Jenkintown Monday night, 85-66. Jenkintown was eastern champion last year. It'll be a good match. But Thorpe has played in much faster company than the cowboys. It looks like the Dist. 11 champions will win this one to qualify for the eastern final next Monday night.

Westminster and Youngstown are Both Eliminated

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Westminster College of Pennsylvania and Youngstown of Ohio have been eliminated from the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City. Southwest Texas State had to withstand a late rally Wednesday to turn back Westminster 61-58 in a second round game. Defending NAIA champion Tennessee A & I edge Youngstown 89-80 in another second round game behind the 29 points of Dick Barnett.

Southwest Texas twice pulled away to 15-point leads only to have Westminster stage comebacks. But the Titans ran out of time.

Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas took game scoring honors with 22 points. Chuck Davis was high for the losers with 20.

Herb Lake was high for Youngstown with 26 points.

Matter of FACT

Fireplaces are not satisfactory for heating large rooms because much of their warmth is wasted up the chimney. One of the first solutions to this problem was made by Benjamin Franklin who designed an open stove to be placed within a fireplace. His stove was partly enclosed so that less heat was wasted while the chimney still created a draft.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Week Offers Enjoyment During Wildlife Week, March 15-21, Pennsylvanians will be made conscious of the nationwide effort to increase the amount of conservation education available to youngsters, will see displays and programs showing the importance of the proper use of natural resources and listen to addresses dealing with these matters.

In this area, another event of importance to outdoors-minded people will take place morning of March 21 in the new Brockway High School. The 21 student officers now completing the wildlife management course prescribed by Game Commission will graduate then and there to become members of Pennsylvania Game Protector force.

Annie Oakley "On a recent afternoon," Game Protector Ivan Dodd reports, "I received a phone call from a woman who lives on a farm in southern Clinton County. She asks that I come to her home immediately because dogs were killing a deer in her yard."

"When I arrived the deer was dead, the dogs were gone and the woman was furious. She said she was going to get some shells and practice shooting. She had shot twice at the dogs, using a .38 caliber pistol, but missed. She definitely stated that any dog found molesting game on her property thereafter was 'good as dead.'"

County Treasurer Praised Early in February a banquet honoring Joseph P. Roberts, treasurer of Cambria County, was sponsored by Nanty Glo, Vintondale and Twin Rocks sportsmen's clubs. Sportsmen showed their appreciation to the retiring treasurer from his act of kindness. Roberts opened the treasurer's office at 6 a. m. so hunters could obtain antlerless deer hunting licenses without losing a day's work by waiting until 9 a. m., regular opening time.

Tennessee Has No Difficulty With Youngstown

KANSAS CITY (AP)—If there's a question concerning the 21st National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament it is: How deep is the Tennessee A&I bench?

Coach Johnny McLendon's Tigers, tournament champions the last two years, used only six players in eliminating a strong Youngstown (Ohio) University team 89-80 in the second round Wednesday night. And only five Tigers scored in their first-round victory over Nebraska Wesleyan.

Tennessee A&I appear a solid favorite, however, over Illinois Normal University, its quarter-final foe tonight.

Illinois Normal eliminated Fairleigh-Dickinson of New Jersey 68-64 Wednesday night.

West Virginia Wesleyan defeated Duluth Branch of Minnesota University 90-75. Wesleyan

Case of Reversed Decision Gives Penn State Win

NEW YORK (AP)—The baffling case of the reversed decision was marked solved today. The solution was to reverse it all over again.

The result was that Penn State won the IC4A indoor track and field championship. Manhattan, which held the title 11 days, finished second.

It all started a week ago last Saturday after the 60-yard high hurdles in the IC4A meet in Madison Square Garden. Mike Herman of New York University was announced as the third-place finisher. Henry White of Manhattan was given fourth place.

But Manhattan Coach George Eastment protested that White had finished ahead of Herman. Eastment consulted with Chief Judge Dan Ferris. He also consulted with Dave Levy, one of the third-place judges. Levy agreed that White finished ahead of Herman and an hour or so later changed his decision.

The extra point Manhattan collected gave the Jaspers the title with 21 points to 20 17-35 for Penn State.

But then it was Penn State's turn to protest. Once decisions are made, said Penn State Coach Chick Werner, they should not be changed.

The IC4A's Executive Committee agreed Wednesday with Penn State. The decision was reversed again and Herman placed third and White fourth. That chopped one point off Manhattan's total. So the Jaspers finished with 20 points, losing the title by 19-36 of a point.

Flood Took Toll Wildlife suffered another natural disaster during the flood that hit in Mercer County in January. Numerous rabbits were seen swimming in the high cold waters. In similar vein George Keppler, a Crawford County Game Protector, reports: "It is my opinion some small game was lost in Meadville area during the January flood." Icy waters covered miles of land in that area.

Bear Breaks, Enters "On two occasions this winter a bear visited a wild turkey feeder in Liberty Township, McKean County," reports Protector Cecil Hancock. Describing what happened, Hancock says: "On the first occasion bruin broke up the feeder and let all the ear corn roll out onto the ground. Signs indicated the animal filled up before leaving. The other time the bear did less damage, but it broke some of the poles in the rack."

occupation ends. State Department spokesman in Washington said the offer was nothing new and emphasized that it would mean the Western allies giving up their rights in Berlin.

Khrushchev and the East Germans also repeated the Soviet demand that the proposed foreign ministers conference be confined to preparation of a peace treaty with Germany and "discussion of the quickest liquidation of the occupation regime in West Berlin." They also called for a summit conference to take up other issues dividing East and West. The West wants to discuss the whole question of German unification rather than be pinned down to facets of the German problem.

The prospects loomed larger for East-West negotiations—and possibly the summit talks sought so ardently by Khrushchev. New notes to the Soviet Union being prepared in the Western capitals reportedly will suggest a foreign ministers conference in Geneva about May 11.

Derby Day this year is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, July 25th with a rain date of August 1st.

Once again this year the climax to the Soap Box Derby program will be the running of the All-American Soap Box Derby at Derby Downs, in Akron, Ohio, on August 16, 1959. The Warren County winner will once again be entered in the big race, and he and other boys will make the trip to Akron to be part of the big festivities which attend the big event.

Boys, just ask last year's winner about the All-American in Akron, Ohio! He'll tell you it was the greatest thing that ever happened to him. From the time he was whisked into Akron by police escort till the time he left, his every minute was filled with a brand of fun and adventure he will never forget.

He'll tell you about Derbytown, the official home of the Champs during their stay in Akron. And you'll hear about all the autographs he got from famous celebrities that come to the Derby. Naturally, your Warren champ will have lots to say about the big race on Sunday for $15,000 in college scholarships and other fine awards—and how these awards are given out at the Banquet of Champions. No wonder past champs all agree: There's just nothing like the All-American Soap Box Derby.

Boys, begin making your plans now. Talk with your parents about the Derby, and be ready to file your registration, build your racer, and have the time of your life when the Soap Box Derby comes to Warren in 1959.

One of the most important meetings of the current Jaycee year will be held this evening at 8:00 p. m. in the YMCA meeting rooms.

The 4th of July Celebration pools have all been tabulated and the board of directors is prepared to make a recommendation regarding that important summer event. As is well-known, the planning of such a celebration takes many months, and the local chapter must decide immediately whether or not to sponsor the July event. For this alone, members are asked to be on hand since it will be their work alone which completes the project.

Another important item on the agenda will be the introduction of new members and the induction ceremony with President Clinger in charge. Many new members have joined the chapter since the last general membership meeting, and they will be present to receive their pins at this meeting.

Jaycees have an internal awards system under which they present at certain times the coveted "Spoke" award to that new member of the chapter who accumulates a certain number of points for work done for the chapter since becoming a Jaycee. Few of these awards have been presented, but a Jaycee will be honored at the meeting with the coveted award.

Other important items of business to be discussed by the Jaycees are Project Tax Reform; Fluoridation; National and State Conventions; Operation Library; Jaycee Auction; Industry on Parade; Convention Picnic; Inaugural Ball; and the Soap Box Derby. In connection with Project Tax Reform, Jaycees are asked to return their signed petitions to this meeting so that they may be forwarded to Harrisburg with the many others which will be coming from all over the country.

Rep. Gavin Appears Before C.A.B. For Bradford Airport

A telegram received this morning at the Times-Mirror advises that Congressman Leon Gavin appeared before the Civil Aeronautics Board on behalf of Bradford's being included on a Pittsburgh-Syracuse air route.

Congressman Gavin stated that he appreciated the opportunity to speak before the Board on Bradford's behalf as he understood the proposed service between Pittsburgh and Syracuse did not include Bradford which gave him grave concern. "Bradford," he said, "is in an area isolated from most of the eastern industrial area except for those points to which it now receives air service."

He further stated that Bradford does not now receive direct rail services and, with the severe winter in that part of the state, making transportation by highway very hazardous and at times entirely impossible, is dependent upon air transportation to get in and out of the area.

Gavin said: "I also wish to call your attention to the fact that in the western part of the state we are making the fight of our lives for our very industrial existence as the natural resources upon which we were dependent for many years; oil, coal and timber, are in a depleted state and we are constantly on the alert to attract new industry to the area. Air transportation is an important asset and also contributes greatly to existing industries as well."

The congressman called the Board's attention to the fact that the Corning Glass company recently built a most substantial plant at Bradford and that it is one of the biggest industrial developments in the Bradford area for many years. "Naturally," he stated, "these people are quite anxious to have direct air service between Bradford and the Corning home office which is served by Elmira airport. Further, the Corning Glass company has a major installation in Parkersburg and a through upplane service between Corning, Bradford and Parkersburg would serve an important need."

He told the Board that he did not know what study and evaluation had been given to Bradford on this Pittsburgh-Syracuse route but wanted to call their attention that it is very important that Bradford be included. Mr. Gavin said that he was not trying to argue the merits of the respective lines but that his prime consideration is that Bradford be included and would be grateful for any consideration given to that community.

Blatt Holds Jobless

Picture Is Unchanged

HARRISBURG (AP)—William L. Batt, Jr., state labor and industry secretary, today held that Pennsylvania's unemployment picture is practically unaltered since last year's recession.

Batt said Wednesday that about 260,000 Pennsylvanians were receiving unemployment compensation benefits on March 6, with some 4,000 of that number exhausting their benefits each week.

He said congressional approval of a proposed extension in supplemental benefits beyond the March 31 deadline is needed to help Pennsylvania ease what he termed its "hard core of unemployment."

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)—Four men accused of robbing a Massapequa, N.Y., bank of $75,000 last Monday are veteran bandits, police say.

Space Flight To Moon In Matter Of Three Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space flight to the moon in less than three hours may some day be possible, a noted scientist says.

So might a 4½-year flight to Pluto, the most distant planet in the solar system, says Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of California Institute of Technology.

But, he indicated, space distances are so enormous that any visions of flight to even the nearest star beyond our sun appear out of the question.

Reason: The spacemen would have lived through a normal lifetime thousands of years before the trip was over!

If a spaceship could be developed having a speed of 90,000 miles an hour—or 25 miles a second—it could reach the moon in 2.9 hours, the sun in 4 days and Pluto in 4½ years, DuBridge said. But it would take the same ship 30,000 years to reach Alpha Centauri, the nearest star beyond the sun.

"But the 25,000 miles per second required to bring the nearest star within reach is not in sight."

Worker's Home Blown Up at Henderson, N.C.

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Police today investigated the dynamiting of a worker's home as mediators called another meeting in an effort to settle a bitter mill strike that began 17 weeks ago.

The explosion, second this week, tore out part of the kitchen in the home of Sam Harris Wednesday night.

Harris, 25, a nonstriking employee of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills, said he was watching television in the living room with his wife when the explosion "blew a hole in the kitchen floor."

Harris, his wife and their children, asleep in a bedroom, escaped injury.

Pioneer IV Believed

700,000 Miles on Trip

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Army's moon shot, Pioneer IV, could have been tracked for 700,000 miles if its battery-powered transmitter had not failed.

Robertson Stevens, manager of the Goldstone tracking station on California's Mojave Desert, based the estimate on signal strength shortly before the rocket lost its transmitting power 407,000 miles from earth. It is now reported in orbit about the sun.
